Face-To-Face Clash On Issues

School, Housing, Farm And Aged Care Argued

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1960 presidential campaign gained momentum today from a history-making face-to-face clash of the rival candidates for the presidency.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy opened up over their differences on farm, school, housing, medical care for the elderly and other issues Monday night before a huge television-radio audience.

The question of the Roman Catholic faith of Sen. Kennedy, the Democratic nominee, never once came up as they debated who can provide the better leadership in the competition with communism.

Kennedy's religion, while never raised by Nixon, his Republican opponent, is considered by most observers to be a major factor in the campaign, along with the civil rights issue.

And while Nixon didn't mention civil rights, either, Kennedy called it "a national responsibility" when a Negro baby, or a Puerto Rican or Mexican in this country "has about half as much chance getting through high school as a white baby."

Nixon hammered away on the argument that his Republican programs will move America forward "on the wonderful record we have made over the past 7½ years."

On the other hand, Nixon said, health, education, housing, farm, elderly medical care and other proposals advanced by Kennedy, would boost federal spending by anywhere from $13.2 to $18 billion dollars.

They would, Nixon charged, "lead to stagnation of the motive power that we need in this country to get progress." Nixon said Republican proposals would increase federal spending from 2 to 4.1 billions.

Kennedy insisted his program can be included in a carefully-drawn balanced budget "if our economy is moving ahead."

And so it went for an hour, with each candidate taking his turn in outlining his case, and answering questions from a panel of television reporters.

The program was carried by all the national television and radio networks—NBC, CBS and ABC, plus MBS radio network. Some individual stations made delayed telecasts and broadcasts of the debate. Television network officials estimated 65 to 75 million persons watched the telecast.

When the program was over, the two contestants agreed on at least one thing: that this first of

Say Policies Are Best For Their People

In Complete Accord On Vital Role Of UN, Support For Its Chief

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan agreed today to give "full support" to United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold in his tasks. Hammarskjold has been a target of Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Nasser Invites Ike To Visit The UAR

NEW YORK (AP) — President Gamal Abdel Nasser has invited President Eisenhower to visit the United Arab Republic as his honor guest.

Diplomatic informants who reported this today said Nasser extended the invitation Monday to Eisenhower during their 70-minute conference.

Nasser is reported to have told the President he would be welcome as a visitor either before or after he leaves the White House next Jan. 20.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty, speaking for both officials, made this statement after they had met about two hours:

"The President and the prime minister reviewed the situation in the General Assembly of the United Nations and considered the policies best pursued by their two countries toward their common goal.

"They were in complete agreement as to the vital role of the United Nations, particularly in the Congo crisis, and the need to give full support to the secretary-general in his tasks."

Khrushchev also has been critical of the U.N. role in the Congo situation.

The Eisenhower - Macmillan meeting was a breakfast confer-

Castro Fiery Speech Intensifies Contest For Neutralist Votes

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Fidel Castro's sledgehammer speech in the United Nations intensified the battle for neutralist votes today as President Eisenhower wound up—for the moment —his whirlwind campaign in personal diplomacy.

Private conferences between world leaders, committed and uncommitted in the East-West struggle, hit a feverish pace.

Everybody was seeing everybody else, behind closed doors, in a gigantic political round robin.

Eisenhower's appointments included breakfast with Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain and his foreign secretary, Lord Home. At hourly intervals he was to confer with Prince Norodom Sihanouk of Cambodia, and Akilou Abte Wold, deputy prime minister of Ethiopia. He also scheduled a talk with John G. Diefenbaker, prime minister of Canada.

One of the key neutralist leaders, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, has been one of the busiest participants in the off-stage maneuvering.

He talked with Eisenhower, President Tito of Yugoslavia, and Indian Prime Minister Nehru Monday night. Nasser said of the interview with Eisenhower, "I am looking forward to strengthening the good relations between the United Arab Republic and the United States."

Reporters tried to question Nehru after his meeting with the Arab leader, but all the Indian would say was: "There is no neutral bloc—only independent nations."

The results of this feverish round of conferences, plus the speeches by Eisenhower, Khrushchev and other principals in the conflict, may be reflected very soon in the debate on a perennial and critical issue—admission of Red China to the U. N.

Man, 56, Files Innocent Plea For Gun Death

Salem Area Resident Will Stand Trial For 2nd Degree Murder

LISBON — Frank W. Fish, 56, of Salem R. D. 5 pleaded not guilty at arraignment Monday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard on a second degree murder indictment returned by the September Grand Jury.

Four other defendants pleaded not guilty; five pleaded guilty and requested probation and two cases were continued. Of the total of 22 defendants, seven pleaded not guilty, seven pleaded guilty and requested probation, psychiatric examination was ordered for two more who pleaded guilty and four were sentenced after pleading guilty. Arraignments began yesterday morning.

Others pleading not guilty were:

Pleading guilty and requesting probation were:

Mrs. Helen Rummel, 25, of East Palestine, receiving stolen property.

Mrs. Silvia Verda Faughn, 43, of Rogers, larceny.

The case of John Ciesielski, 31, of Pittsburgh, was continued as Prosecutor G. William Brokaw told the court the defendant has been picked up on a federal charge and is being held. Ciesielski is out on $5,000 bond in Columbiana County, accused of a narcotics burglary at Peoples Drugstore in East Liverpool in June. Late last week, he and a companion were arrested at Pittsburgh for allegedly cashing fraudulent money orders.

Austrian Airliner Crashes; 30 Dead

MOSCOW (AP)—A four-engine Austrian airliner crashed in fog and rain near Moscow airport Monday night. An Austrian Embassy spokesman said 30 of the 37 persons aboard died in the fiery wreckage.

All seven survivors were reported injured.

They included two attaches at the U.S. Embassy here — Air Force Maj. Edward Wooten of Wilmington, N. C., and Army Maj. Willis H. Knipe of Kokomo, Ind.

Austrian airline officials in Vienna said three of the dead probably were Americans. They were identified as Miss M. L. Simone, a Pan American World Airlines employe; and a Mr. and Mrs. Ganulin, who flew to Europe from Los Angeles.

The Austrian spokesman said one of the plane's four engines apparently caught fire during the approach to the airport. The airliner tore into a wooded area west of the airport, leaving a 400-yard gash in the field before coming to a halt.

Officials here were unable immediately to identify all the victims because they had not received a passenger list from Vienna.

Other victims included two Austrian government officials flying here for trade talks and 10 or 11 Austrian workmen who were to recondition the Austrian Embassy.

Surviving the crash with Wooten and Knipe were Maria Wernli, an airline stewardess; Lt. Col. Paul Bertrand, assistant French air attache; and an Austrian citizen and two Russians.

Wooten's wife told newsmen after a visit to her husband in the hospital that he was "not too badly off." Knipe suffered burns.

The four attaches were returning from a tour that took them through the eastern Soviet Union, Japan, Hong Kong and back by way of Vienna.

Defense Hits 'Confession' In Attack Case

Georgetown Man's Trial Enters Second Day At Cumberland

The trial of Harry M. Beck entered its second day in Hancock County Circuit Court with cross-examination of a sheriff's deputy who prepared a statement of confession reportedly signed by the Georgetown steelworker.

Beck, 39, is being tried at New Cumberland on charges of felonious assault, attempted criminal assault and entering without breaking into the apartment of a 24-year-old Chester woman Aug. 28, 1959.

Deputy William King of Weirton was questioned today about the statement apparently signed by Beck.

The defense claims the statements were not made by a "mentally mature person."

Also scheduled for questioning today was Deputy Arnie Durham of Newell, who with King, investigated the incident when the victim was surprised in her apartment by an intruder, suffering injuries from blows of his fists and a pistol that required her hospitalization.

Beck, indicted on three counts by the Grand Jury in January, underwent mental examination at Weston State Hospital after his arrest by the sheriff's office.

Yesterday, the 12-member jury heard testimony from the young woman who said that she had emerged from a shower in her apartment when she was confronted by an intruder wearing a white mask and gloves.

A knife was put to her throat, but she managed to break away and grabbed the weapon.

Her screams awakened a neighbor, John Boyd, who ran to the apartment as the intruder fled. Boyd, the woman, and Deputy King were questioned Monday afternoon.

The defense claims it has evidence showing he could not have been at the scene, pointing out that he could not drive a car and there were no buses from Georgetown to Chester.

A nightgown worn by the victim was introduced as evidence by Prosecutor Frank A. Pietranton. The woman's purse was left untouched by the intruder, the prosecutor pointed out, eliminating robbery as the motive.

The jury, which includes two women, was permitted to return home after testimony ended yesterday afternoon. The jurors reconvened today at 10 a. m. in the Courthouse. Only a few spectators were present.

Sewing Machine Case Brings 3rd Complaint

Capt. Robert H. Pyle said today a third East Liverpool woman complained to police Monday in connection with financing a sewing machine she purchased from two Youngstown men who are awaiting a Municipal Court hearing Thursday on charges of failing to give purchasers copies of retail installment sales agreements.

The charges face Jerry Risner, 30, and Elmer Ellsworth, 38, in connection with sale of sewing machines earlier to two other local women. They were taken into custody Friday, then released on $500 bonds to await hearings.

The women said they understood they would be able to pay for the machines through a "work-at-home" arrangement, but found the purchases later were financed through a bank and a loan company. The woman who complained yesterday gave substantially the same version, Capt. Pyle said.

Double Killer Refused New Trial In Beaver

BEAVER — The Pennsylvania Supreme Court Monday turned down an appeal for a new trial for Arthur G. Schuck of Economy, convicted in the "mistaken identity" slaying of two men.

Schuck was sentenced two years ago to die in the electric chair for the double murder. A hearing on his appeal from the death penalty was held several months ago.

3-Week Campaign Set

Midland's United Fund Will Be Launched Monday

The United Fund campaign in the Midland area will be held Monday and tentatively through Oct. 24.

Besides the campaign dates, the "kickoff" meeting was also set for next Monday by the Board of Directors of the Midland Area Charities at its meeting Monday evening in Lincoln High School.

The "kickoff" will be held at 8 p. m. in the Music Forum of the high school. Divisional chairmen and workers will see a film and receive instructions on how to conduct the drive.

Instead of holding an expensive dinner meeting, directors agreed the affair should be simple. Refreshments will include coffee and doughnuts.

The first report meeting of chairmen is Oct. 17 and the final report meeting Oct. 24, both at 8 p.m. in the high school.

Charles Schmitt, campaign chairman, reported plans progressing. The date for solicitation of Midland residents will be set at a meeting of Richard Fantone and Mrs. Jack Haggerty, Midland residential chairmen, Wednesday evening at the home of Nile H. Wain, fund secretary.

Canvass of Smiths Ferry, Fairview, Ohio View and Industry will be held the same day as that in Midland. All who give or pledge money will receive lapel pins and United Fund stickers.

Solicitations will also be held in industrial plants, including the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. Funds given by workers from out of the area will be sent to United Fund organizations where the employes reside, Wain said.

In order that Midland employes at Crucible are not asked to give twice, the company plans to submit to the campaign committee the names of donors.

Most letters for advanced gifts have been mailed to the majority professional people, industry, clubs and other organizations.

Chairmen Picked In Drive On Vice

Laymen from Chester and Newell have selected three as chairmen from the communities to serve on the Hancock County Citizens Committee for Better Government.

The committee, organized with the aim of spurring stronger law enforcement in the wake of reports of widespread illegal gambling and liquor sales operations in the county, will convene tonight at 8 in Weirton.

Plans will be mapped for a public meeting Oct. 18 when candidates in the Nov. 8 general election will be invited to air their views on ways to eliminate alleged vice conditions in the county.

Chester will be represented on the citizens' committee by Carl Graham, 238 Indiana Ave., a deacon in the Christian Church, and Don Chaney, 801 Carolina Ave., a service station operator.

Newell's representative, selected at a meeting Monday night attended by some 50 lay representatives and pastors, will be Alvin W. Eckleberry, 214 Grant St., an insurance salesman.

New Cumberland was to name its chairman today and Weirton's representative on the committee will be announced at the meeting tonight at 8 in the Weirton First Methodist Church.

161 Qualified For Fall Ballot

Branch Registration Offices Enroll 55

A total of 161 voters qualified Monday at the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St. and at branch registration offices in East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights as a last-minute rush got under way in earnest to enroll for the Nov. 8 general election before the deadline Wednesday night at 10.

The board's office enrolled 106 in its 13-hour schedule extending from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Totals in the branch registration offices were: East End, 26; Pleasant Heights, 15, and North Side, 14.

Yesterday's rush brought to 10,965 the estimated number qualified in East Liverpool for the general election.

The branch offices are operating again today, but Wednesday the Election Board's office will be the only registration point, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, pointed out.

The registration centers are at the Louis-James Clothing Store on Mulberry St., at the North Side Fire Station and in the Pleasant Heights School. They opened at 11 this morning and will operate until 3 p. m., resuming again tonight from 5 to 10.

Both today and Wednesday, the Election Board's office will be open 13 hours without a break. Staggering the staff's hours allows the board to operate through the lunch and dinner hours, O'Hanlon explained.

1 More Day To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the Nov. 8 general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 8, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. Special application may be made to vote in the Presidential election with less than a year's residence. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Laymen from Chester and Newell have selected three as chairmen from the communities to serve on the Hancock County Citizens Committee for Better Government.

The committee, organized with the aim of spurring stronger law enforcement in the wake of reports of widespread illegal gambling and liquor sales operations in the county, will convene tonight at 8 in Weirton.

Plans will be mapped for a public meeting Oct. 18 when candidates in the Nov. 8 general election will be invited to air their views on ways to eliminate alleged vice conditions in the county.

Chester will be represented on the citizens' committee by Carl Graham, 238 Indiana Ave., a deacon in the Christian Church, and Don Chaney, 801 Carolina Ave., a service station operator.

Newell's representative, selected at a meeting Monday night attended by some 50 lay representatives and pastors, will be Alvin W. Eckleberry, 214 Grant St., an insurance salesman.

New Cumberland was to name its chairman today and Weirton's representative on the committee will be announced at the meeting tonight at 8 in the Weirton First Methodist Church.

161 Qualified For Fall Ballot

Branch Registration Offices Enroll 55

A total of 161 voters qualified Monday at the County Election Board's office on W. 6th St. and at branch registration offices in East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights as a last-minute rush got under way in earnest to enroll for the Nov. 8 general election before the deadline Wednesday night at 10.

The board's office enrolled 108 in its 13-hour schedule extending from 9 a. m. to 10 p. m. Totals in the branch registration offices were: East End, 26; Pleasant Heights, 15, and North Side, 14.

Yesterday's rush brought to 10,965 the estimated number qualified in East Liverpool for the general election.

The branch offices are operating again today, but Wednesday the Election Board's office will be the only registration point, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, pointed out.

The registration centers are at the Louis-James Clothing Store on Mulberry St., at the North Side Fire Station and in the Pleasant Heights School. They opened at 11 this morning and will operate until 3 p. m., resuming again tonight from 5 to 10.

Both today and Wednesday, the Election Board's office will be open 13 hours without a break. Staggering the staff's hours allows the board to operate through the lunch and dinner hours, O'Hanlon explained.

1 More Day To Register

To be eligible to vote in East Liverpool at the Nov. 8 general election, you must register with the County Election Board at 129 W. 6th St. if:

You haven't voted at a primary, general or special election in the last two years; you've changed your name by marriage or court action; you've changed your residence since the last election; you've become 21 since the last election or will be 21 on or before Nov. 8, the general election date.

A new resident is qualified to vote after he has resided in Ohio for a year and in Columbiana County and his precinct 40 days prior to Election Day. Special application may be made to vote in the Presidential election with less than a year's residence. East Liverpool is the only community in the county where voter registration is required.

Registration Ends Wednesday

Castro's 4½-Hour Attack On U.S. Lacked Usual Fire

Robert Berrellez, a Spanish-speaking native of Arizona and a member of The Associated Press Havana staff, has reported daily on Fidel Castro throughout the bearded revolutionary's spectacular regime and has toured with him in Cuba and the United States. Now at the United Nations, where Castro Monday bowed into the diplomatic big leagues on the Red team with a 4½-hour speech, Berrellez gives this closeup view.

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —It was a relatively subdued Fidel Castro who addressed the U.N. General Assembly Monday.

It was not an address that will be endorsed by the Daughters of the American Revolution. But the 4½-hour blast against the United States lacked much of the usual fire.

The Cuban revolutionary chieftain never reached the towering, incoherent rage that comes over him when he opens up against the United States in his speeches back home.

The fact that the audience—except for the Soviet and Cuban delegates—did not respond as Cuban audiences do may have been a factor in Castro's failure to reach his explosive peak. Castro thrives on a big cheering section.

There were perceptible halts in his oratory when he gave the impression he was waiting for the familiar revolutionary chants that punctuate his speeches in Havana.

He also might have been acutely aware that his audience contained people whom he considered unfriendly. The strapping lawyer-revolutionary seems incapable of tolerating criticism or opposition.

If the explosiveness was lacking, the usual mannerisms he emplys to dramatize his remarks were not. He jabbed the air with his fingers and went into the familiar sawing gestures with both arms. But it was like a symphony orchestra conductor leading a string quartet.

There is a noticeable difference in the Castro of today and the one who came to the United States in April 1959.

Strained relations between the United States and Cuba may be largely responsible for his virtual isolation in his suite.

In the sole instance so far that Castro permitted U.S. newsmen to question him, he appeared ill at ease and restless. His attempts to be the self-assured, jovial figure he cut for the American press in 1959 appeared to be forced.

Atmosphere Of Deep Concern

K's Maneuvering To Oust Dag Chief Threat To U.N.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press news Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —One of the biggest dangers to the future of the United Nations is that Nikita Khrushchev can accomplish basically what he has set out to do without any necessity for reference to the will of the majority.

This is being discussed in the U.N. corridors in an atmosphere of deep concern.

The Soviet leader has made it as clear as possible that he is out to get Secretary-General Dag Hammarkjold by one means or another.

His proposal to replace the office of secretary-general with a pre-paralyzed three-member presidium—with built-in veto power—can be looked upon more as a maneuver than as a proposal with any chance of reaching a formal vote.

But it is, in effect, a signal for all-out war by the Communist bloc against the secretary-general. The purpose is to make things so hot for Hammarskjold that he will feel his effectiveness at an end and see no choice but to resign.

Should this come about, Khrushchev will have accomplished his objective.

It would be next to impossible to get a new secretary-general who would be satisfactory to both East and West. The search could go on for months—perhaps even years.

Meanwhile, the office would remain vacant, and the peace-making functions of the office paralyzed.

That actually is Khrushchev's major objective.

It would leave the field open for Communist interference in future emergencies such as the one which has kept the Congo in an uproar since the beginning of July.

U.S. observers here give this interpretation of Khrushchev's aim: What he cannot control he will attempt to crush.

Khrushchev is aware that adoption of his proposal to change the structure of the secretariat is impossible.

A structural change such as he has suggested requires a two-thirds majority vote of the General Assembly. And the change in the charter would have to be ratified by two-thirds of the members including all five permanent members of the Security Council. There is no chance of that.

In fact Khrushchev has yet to put forward his suggestion in the form of a formal proposal. But he doesn't have to do that. All he has to do is continue to insist that he and the Communist bloc have no confidence in Hammarskjold.

If he does that long enough and consistently enough, then this historic session of the Assembly will be, as U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth has said, a complete washout.

Stowaway, 24, Now In London Jail, Man No Country Wants

LONDON (AP)—Samuel Abdulla, 25, has traveled widely, but all he sees of the countries he visits is their docks and prisons.

The stateless stowaway now is lodged in London's Brixton Jail while officials puzzle over his future, for Abdulla is a man no country wants.

He is believed to be an Indian from the East Punjab, but has no papers to prove his identity. He first showed up in England on the liner Strathmore in September 1959. He said he had stowed away at Colombo.

British authorities refused to let him land. He was transferred to the liner Iberia and sent back to Bombay. There Indian authorities refused to accept him, and Abdulla spent the next nine months sailing around the Indian coast.

In May, he was put aboard another liner for England, and again he was refused permission to land. He claimed he had come from Fiji—so to Fiji he went. But the Fijians didn't want him either and shipped him back to England. He arrived at Tilbury docks Sunday aboard the liner Strathnaver.

British officials said if no arrangements can be made for Abdulla to stay here he will be shipped out on the next Pacific and Orient liner to leave England.

The 16 youths attending were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Richards, Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGaffick, Mrs. Wayne McGaffick, Mrs. Earl Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Saucer, Mrs. Mabel Henderson,, Mrs. R. G. Hammond and Mrs. F. Paul Dawson of the Senior Grange

Chester Pep Club Sets Sale Of School Shirts

Plans to sell school color ties and sweat shirts were made by the Chester High School Pep Club Monday.

Lysbeth Arner was named chairman of a committee to arrange for chartering a bus to the Chester-Warwood football game Oct. 8. On the committee are Grayce Pinney and Donna Chaney.

Joyce Wilson, president, was in charge.

2 Youths At Hookstown Enter Grange Contest

Two members of the Hookstown Juvenile Grange will enter Pennsylvania State Grange contests in Harrisburg in October.

Emily Soisson will enter her cone craft project and Ellen Glenn, her brownie cookies. Both were first-place winners at the Beaver County Roundup at Center Grange Friday night.

The Hookstown degree team won first place. Joan Stewart won first in the fifth and sixth grade spelling contest and Susan Walker first in the seventh and eighth Grade spelling. Hookstown placed second in the chorus contest.

Their prizes were $2 except the $3 received by the degree team.

Paratroopers Cut Roads To Loas' Rebel Command

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Capt. Kong Le's paratroopers have cut roads leading north and south of Savannakhet, headquarters of right-wing rebel Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, Premier-Prince Souvanna Phouma indicated today.

The paratroopers, who are loyal to Souvanna's neutralist government in Vientiane, are believed to lack sufficient strength to attack Savannakhet. Souvanna said their object is to contact pro-Phoumi forces and the rural population in the area and win them over to Souvanna's government.

The paratroopers could also be trying to contact the pro-Communist Pathet Lao bands that control large areas of Savannakhet province. Souvanna has pledged to seek peace with the Pathet Lao.

Gun fire was heard in the capital of Vientiane again Monday night. Gen. Ouane Rathikone, commander of Souvanna's army, said pro-Phoumi forces had come up the Mekong River in two boats and attacked the army training camp at Chinaimo in the suburbs. Defenders returned the fire, he said.

Bonds Forfeited In Chester Crash

James L. Williams, 18, of 587 W. 8th St., cited in Chester Monday morning after his car hit a parked auto, forfeited a total of $51 in bonds last night when he failed to appear for a hearing before Mayor Ray Collins.

Williams, driving a 1956 sedan, struck a small 1960 Simca sedan owned by Charles Edward Dement, 520 5th St., parked near Dement's home, police said.

He forfeited $30.50 on a charge of operating a vehicle on a temporary permit without an accompanying licensed driver and $20.50 for failure to have his car under control.

Patrick Eugene Grace of New Cumberland R. D. 2 was fined $10 and costs for failure to halt for a stop sign.

Business Figure Heads Cleveland Auto Club

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frederick T. McGuire Jr., Cleveland civic and business leader, has been elected chief administrative and operating officer of the 126,000-member Cleveland Automobile Club.

McGuire, who is president of the 60-year-old auto club, also is ending a two-year term as president of the 7,000,000 - member parent group, the American Automobile Association. He will direct overall operational activities of the Cleveland Auto Club starting Oct. 1. Eleven days later he bows out as head of the national group.

Infant Girl Drowns In Unusual Accident

CLEVELAND (AP) — A 5½-month-old girl drowned Monday in an unusual accident, police said. Her mother, Mrs. Delores Pace, 32, suffered an epileptic seizure and dropped the baby and a bundle of laundry into an agitator-type washing machine that was in operation.

The child, Joanne Pace, was pronounced dead two hours later. Mother and daughter were found by Mrs. Pace's mother. The Paces have three other children.

Delays Hearing On Suit

CINCINNATI (AP)—The First Distrct State Court of Appeals has put off for at least one week a hearing on a suit by Mrs. Donna Alt, 17, to force the Loveland school board to admit her to high school. The court agreed to the postponement Monday to give the school board time to amend its reply to the suit. Mrs. Alt, wife of a soldier now overseas, seeks to finish her senior year.

Band Mothers Arrange Trip

Plans to take the Chester High School band to Columbus in November were discussed by the Purple and Gold Band Mothers at a meeting Monday night at the high school.

The band is slated to see an Ohio State University football game Nov. 5 and to attend a rehearsal of the university band.

Plans were also discussed for housing the St. Marys High School band following the Chester-St. Marys football game Oct. 28.

Mrs. Fred Greenlee and Mrs. Lawrence Lafferre were named co-chairmen of a rummage sale to be held Oct. 17-22 at the Laitsch Building on Mulberry St., East Liverpool.

Mrs. Charles Wagner announced the group will sponsor a cooking school with the Monongahela Power Co. Nov. 9 at the high school auditorium. Assisting Mrs. Wagner will be Mrs. Harold Dickey, Mrs. Cecil Pugh and Mrs. George Durbin.

Mrs. James Morris reported $40 netted from a skating party held earlier this month.

Lunch was served to 18 by Mrs. Charles Board and Mrs. Shontz Dunn. Mrs. Herman Wilson, president, was in charge.

Bylaws were revised to hold regular meetings on the fourth Monday and the next will be Oct. 24.

Amish Teacher Gets 10 Days For Contempt

MEDINA, Ohio (AP)—An Amish school teacher found in contempt of court for violating a common pleas court order not to teach without a state certificate was sentenced to 10 days in Medina County jail Monday. Amos J. Mast, 28, of Homerville Twp., said he realized he had taught school "against the wishes of the court, in behalf of my church."

Judge W. E. Kellogg, who sentenced Mast, issued an injunction Aug. 26 forbidding the Amish instructor to teach until he obtained certification from the State Board of Education.

Arbiter On Social Good Form

Emily Post Dies At 86; Noted Expert On Etiquette

NEW YORK (AP)—Emily Post, the international authority on etiquette and arbiter on all matters of social good form, is dead at 86.

She died Sunday night at her east side apartment, but the death was not announced by relatives until Monday night. She had been in failing health for years.

The Baltimore-born expert on which fork to use and how to behave at a dinner party was a pioneer in simplifying good manners—at a time when many believed they should be stiffly elaborate.

Her philosophy: What was socially right was what was socially simple and unaffected.

Mrs. Post believed that if you picked up the wrong fork, there was a possibility that your hostess was wrong in having too many forks.

She offered advice on a wide range of subjects—from how to instill good manners in an active 7-year-old boy to how to address royalty and how to drive your car without snarl or scowl.

But mainly she advised the debutante, the confused suitor and the newly married couple. She stayed clear of giving lonelyhearts advice.

Her most widely known book, "Etiquette: The Blue Book of Social Usage," has some more than a million copies through 10 revisions and 89 printings. And for many years she had a radio program and a daily syndicated newspaper column.

She was born Emily Price in Baltimore in 1873, the daughter of an architect. She grew up in her native city and New York surrounded by luxury and secure in social position.

How did she begin writing? She recalled that early in the century "a bank failed somewhere and I had to do something." She turned the letters she had written her father from Europe into her first book, "The Flight of a Moth," published in 1904.

By 1922, she had written five books. Exasperated over a friend's book that contained what she said was misinformation on etiquette, she set about to write her own handbook on manners. She was on her way.

Mrs. Bertha Hughes

Services were held this morning at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville for Mrs. Bertha May Hughes, 1822 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, who died Saturday night at the Osteopathic Hospital. She was 66. Burial was in St. Elizabeth Cemetery at Wellsville.

Survivors included two sons, Benjamin Lee of East Liverpool and Harry Lee of Williamsburg, Va.

Mrs. George Tice

LISBON — Mrs. Annie Mae Tice, 85, of R. D. 4 died Monday at 3:35 p. m. at Bea's Rest Home in Salineville, where she had been a patient 8 months. She had been in failing health several years.

Born Dec. 12, 1874, in Washington County, she was a daughter of George and Mary Carpenter Kiggans and resided in this vicinity for 20 years.

She was a member of the First Christian Church. She was married to George M. Tice Dec. 3, 1903.

Mrs. Tice is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Irene Anderson and Mrs. Hazel P. Conn, both of Lisbon; a sister, Mrs. Etta Rouse of Lisbon; three brothers, John W. Kiggans of Lisbon, James Kiggans of Canonsburg and Charles B. Kiggans of St. Petersburg, Fla., and 12 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren. A son by a former marriage, Harry F. Peterson, died in 1934.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Eells-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. William Spangler. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Frederick Metz

COLUMBIANA—Frederick Curtis Metz, 66, died Monday afternoon at Salem City Hospital, where he was admitted Sunday.

A former electrician for the General Fireproofing Co. at Youngstown, he was born June 8, 1894, at Leetonia, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Metz. He was married in 1943 to the former Philora Liston.

He retired in 1959 from the Youngstown firm. He was a member of the American Legion here.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two brothers, Dr. Wilbur Metz of Franklin, Pa., and Austin Metz of Casper, Wy.; and two sisters, Mrs. John Coppersmith of Leetonia and Mrs. William Kaiser of Warren.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the Warrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. Paul Gerrard of the Lisbon First Presbyterian Church and the Rev. A. A. Anderson of the Columbiana Lutheran Church. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Illness Claims City Soldier

Pfc. David K. Applegate, son of City Auditor and Mrs. Lawrence C. Applegate, 1119 St. George St., died Monday night at Valley Forge General Hospital at Valley Forge, Pa., following a 3-month illness of leukemia. He was 22.

Pfc. Applegate was stricken ill early in June with the blood disease while serving with the 78th Field Artillery Battalion in Craelsheim, Germany.

He was transferred to the Army hospital at Valley Forge and spent a 20-day sick leave with his parents in August, returning to the hospital late last month.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he enlisted in October 1958 and trained at Ft. Hood, Tex., for about 6 months before being assigned overseas. Before entering the service, he attended Kent State University.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Lawrence C. Applegate Jr. of East Liverpool; a sister, Miss Adrianne Applegate at home; his maternal grandfather, William J. Treleven of East Liverpool, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Applegate, also of East Liverpool.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Board Hires School Nurse

A nurse to serve the Wellsville city school system has been hired by the Board of Education.

Mrs. Jean Tipton, 1601 Chester Ave., Wellsville, now employed at City Hospital, was hired at a special meeting of the board Thursday night.

Her salary was set at $3,500 a year, plus $200 car allowance, for 10 months work. Mrs. Tipton, wife of Wallace Tipton, will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mrs. Jennie Calhoun in July after 25 years service.

She will begin her duties after working out a notice at the hospital, probably about Oct. 10.

A Civil Service examination was held Sept. 8 for the position but only one of five registered nurses who took the test received a passing grade.

The one name was submitted to the board but no action was taken as the law stipulates three names should be certified.

A check of other schools in the area showed that the nurse position does not fall under Civil Service so the board decided to take action on its own.

Previously, the nurse who served the schools, also served as city health nurse.

The Wellsville Board of Health is scheduled to meet Friday night at 7 to act on filling the vacancy. Mrs. Calhoun also served in this post.

Ordered To Rest

PARIS (AP)—Brigitte Bardot's doctors reportedly have ordered a complete rest for the blonde actress, whose marriage with actor Jacques Charrier has been repeatedly rumored on the rocks.

Woman, Girl Hurt In Falls

A Vine St. woman and a Hazel St. girl, hurt in falls, were admitted Monday to City Hospital. Six other youngsters and adults were released after treatment.

Mrs. Erma Nagel of 424 Vine St. is in "fairly good" condition today with an injury to the right ankle suffered in a fall.

Carol Adkins, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Adkins, 1027 Hazel St., is in "fairly good" condition with a laceration of the scalp received in a fall on a stone while playing near home last night.

Nancy Quinn, 1, daughter of Mrs. Betty Quinn of Glenmoor, was treated for second degree burns of the feet received on a hot register.

Margaret Baker, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker, 1053 Dresden Ave., was kicked on the foot while playing ball and received a fractured toe.

William Jackson, 55, of Wellsville was treated for a cut of the lip and abrasions of the face.

Midland Parish Bazaar Will Begin Tonight

A bazaar sponsored by the parish of the Presentation Catholic Church in Midland will open tonight and continue Wednesday and Thursday.

It will be held in front of the church at Ohio Ave. and 8th St. and will feature rides, games, bake sale and parcel post, Emeric Davis, general chairman, said.

Final arrangements were made at a committee meeting Sunday.

Commissioners Order Wayne Road Vacated

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday vacated a mile stretch of Paulin Rd., also listed as Township Rd. 875, running east and west in the northern half of Section 26 in Wayne Township.

The commissioners viewed the road Sept. 19 and held a public hearing Monday but no one attended as all those affected had petitioned to have the road vacated.

After an hour they called in their foreign policy chiefs, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Lord Home, to help plan coordinated Allied strategy for checking Khrushchev's anti-Western offensive in the United Nations.

In the afternoon, Eisenhower arranged to get together with Canada's John Diefenbaker before ending his busy round of foreign policy talks and heading back to Washington.

The President is reported increasingly confident that numerous neutralist nations will join Western countries in defeating Khrushchev's plan to revamp the United Nations to Moscow's design.

Board Names Dean Of Girls

Miss Lois Switzer of Elkton was named dean of girls at Beaver Local High School for 1960-61 at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

A salary increase was granted Mrs. Margaret Strader for advanced training, and application of William Sponsel of near Rogers as a substitute bus driver was accepted.

Discussion was held on the need for additional janitorial help at the Public School and for salary increases for cafeteria personnel, but action was delayed for further study.

A survey was also authorized concerning 3 youngsters in Sec. 25 of Madison Township, recently transferred to Beaver Local from Southern Local, who still are attending Wellsville schools. A report is expected at the next meeting.

Lee Kirkland, high school principal, was authorized to attend a meeting of Ohio secondary school principals at Columbus Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Conduct of some students on buses was discussed with their parents. The next meeting will be Oct. 10.

Koppers Firm Makes 3 Executive Changes

P. D. Shollar, vice president - procurement, and W. F. Alexander, director of procurement, have been transferred to the office of the president where they will devote their time to special assignments that will best utilize their extensive experience which totals some 75 years with Koppers.

J. D. Rice, formerly assistant director of procurement, has been named director of procurement.

Club To Air Project

EAST PALESTINE — The Women's Democratic Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at the City Hall for a panel discussion on a planned $836,000 municipal light plant improvement.

Village Hall Heating Aired

SALINEVILLE — Discussion of heating expenses for the Village Hall during the winter was held by Council at a meeting Monday night.

Councilmen said the gas bill sometimes amounts to $150 a month. The possibility of increasing rents for a grocery store and music studio in the building was referred to the building committee.

Also taken under consideration by the building committee was fire insurance for the coming year after Karl Lindner, insurance agent, reminded Council the policy will expire Oct. 7.

Police Chief Mellott reported on the police department for Aug. 30-Sept. 25. He said there were 3 accidents, 11 arrests, 11 warnings issued, 1,938 miles patroled, 1 breaking and entering, 5 dog complaints and 65 miscellaneous investigations made.

A transfer of $150 from the general fund to cemetery fund was approved to provide for preparing the cemetery for the winter.

Mayor Kenneth Leishman said residents with gardens should be reminded to clean up unused vegetables so that Halloweeners will not have available "ammunition."

The next meeting will be Oct. 10.

Store Begins Remodeling

The work, which is expected to require about 60 days, is part of a series of renovation projects being undertaken by the furniture firm headed by Miss Phyllis Crook.

The remodeling will include a new entrance on the east side of the building at Crook Alley and E. 5th St. with a lighted canopy extending over the sidewalk.

The remainder of the front will be a recessed display window with the latest in modern lighting, Harold Allison, general manager, said.

The company also plans to air condition the building before next spring, he added. It already has completed relighting of the first floor, replacing old fixtures with flush 48-x-48 fluorescent lighting.

Robert F. Beatty, architect, designed the new front.

"We have faith in the future of East Liverpool and we are preparing for its growth," Allison commented.

She offered advice on a wide range of subjects—from how to instill good manners in an active 7-year-old boy to how to address royalty and how to drive your car without snarl or scowl.

But mainly she advised the debutante, the confused suitor and the newly married couple. She stayed clear of giving lonelyhearts advice.

Her most widely known book, "Etiquette: The Blue Book of Social Usage," has some more than a million copies through 10 revisions and 89 printings. And for many years she had a radio program and a daily syndicated newspaper column.

She was born Emily Price in Baltimore in 1873, the daughter of an architect. She grew up in her native city and New York surrounded by luxury and secure in social position.

How did she begin writing? She recalled that early in the century "a bank failed somewhere and I had to do something." She turned the letters she had written her father from Europe into her first book, "The Flight of a Moth," published in 1904.

By 1922, she had written five books. Exasperated over a friend's book that contained what she said was misinformation on etiquette, she set about to write her own handbook on manners. She was on her way.

Mrs. Bertha Hughes

Services were held this morning at the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church at Wellsville for Mrs. Bertha May Hughes, 1822 Buckeye Ave., Wellsville, who died Saturday night at the Osteopathic Hospital. She was 66. Burial was in St. Elizabeth Cemetery at Wellsville.

Survivors included two sons, Benjamin Lee of East Liverpool and Harry Lee of Williamsburg, Va.

Mrs. George Tice

LISBON — Mrs. Annie Mae Tice, 85, of R. D. 4 died Monday at 3:25 p. m. at Bea's Rest Home in Salineville, where she had been a patient 8 months. She had been in failing health several years.

Born Dec. 12, 1874, in Washington County, she was a daughter of George and Mary Carpenter Kiggans and resided in this vicinity for 30 years.

She was a member of the First Christian Church. She was married to George M. Tice Dec. 3, 1902.

Mrs. Tice is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Irene Anderson and Mrs. Hazel P. Conn, both of Lisbon; a sister, Mrs. Ella Rouse of Lisbon; three brothers, John W. Kiggans of Lisbon, James Kiggans of Canonsburg and Charles B. Kiggans of St. Petersburg, Fla., and 12 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren. A son by a former marriage, Harry F. Peterson, died in 1934.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Ellis-Leggett Funeral Home by the Rev. William Spangler. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening.

Frederick Metz

COLUMBIANA—Frederick Curtis Metz, 66, died Monday afternoon at Salem City Hospital, where he was admitted Sunday.

A former electrician for the General Fireproofing Co. at Youngstown, he was born June 6, 1894, at Leetonia, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Uriah Metz. He was married in 1963 to the former Philora Liston.

He retired in 1950 from the Youngstown firm. He was a member of the American Legion here.

Besides his widow, he is survived by two brothers, Dr. Wilbur Metz of Franklin, Pa., and Austin Metz of Casper, Wy.; and two sisters, Mrs. John Copperasmith of Leetonia and Mrs. William Kaiser of Warren.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the Warrick Funeral Home here by the Rev. Paul Gerrard of the Lisbon First Presbyterian Church and the Rev. A. A. Anderson of the Columbiana Lutheran Church. Burial will be in Columbiana Cemetery.

Friends may call Wednesday night at the funeral home.

Mrs. Isabella McKean

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Isabella McKean, 87, former city resident, died this morning at 1:15 at the Delp Nursing Home near Boardman, where she had been since 1955.

The VanDyke Funeral Home is arranging services.

Board Hires School Nurse

A nurse to serve the Wellsville city school system has been hired by the Board of Education.

Mrs. Jean Tipton, 1601 Chester Ave., Wellsville, now employed at City Hospital, was hired at a special meeting of the board Thursday night.

Her salary was set at $5,500 a year, plus $200 car allowance, for 10 months work. Mrs. Tipton, wife of Wallace Tipton, will fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Mrs. Jennie Calhoun in July after 25 years service.

She will begin her duties after working out a notice at the hospital, probably about Oct. 10.

A Civil Service examination was held Sept. 8 for the position but only one of five registered nurses who took the test received a passing grade.

The one name was submitted to the board but no action was taken as the law stipulates three names should be certified.

A check of other schools in the area showed that the nurse position does not fall under Civil Service so the board decided to take action on its own.

Previously, the nurse who served the schools, also served as city health nurse.

The Wellsville Board of Health is scheduled to meet Friday night at 7 to act on filling the vacancy. Mrs. Calhoun also served in this post.

Ordered To Rest

PARIS (AP)—Brigitte Bardot's doctors reportedly have ordered a complete rest for the blonde actress, whose marriage with actor Jacques Charrier has been repeatedly rumored on the rocks.

Deaths and Funerals

Illness Claims City Soldier

Pfc. David K. Applegate, son of City Auditor and Mrs. Lawrence C. Applegate, 1119 St. George St., died Monday night at Valley Forge General Hospital at Valley Forge, Pa., following a 3-month illness of leukemia. He was 22.

Pfc. Applegate was stricken ill early in June with the blood disease while serving with the 78th Field Artillery Battalion in Craelsheim, Germany.

He was transferred to the Army hospital at Valley Forge and spent a 20-day sick leave with his parents in August, returning to the hospital late last month.

A graduate of East Liverpool High School, he enlisted in October 1958 and trained at Ft. Hood, Tex., for about 6 months before being assigned overseas. Before entering the service, he attended Kent State University.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Lawrence C. Applegate Jr. of East Liverpool; a sister, Miss Adrianne Applegate at home; his maternal grandfather, William J. Treleven of East Liverpool, and his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Gertrude Applegate, also of East Liverpool.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Woman, Girl Hurt In Falls

A Vine St. woman and a Hazel St. girl, hurt in falls, were admitted Monday to City Hospital. Six other youngsters and adults were released after treatment.

Mrs. Erma Nagel of 424 Vine St. is in "fairly good" condition today with an injury to the right ankle suffered in a fall.

Carol Adkins, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Adkins, 1027 Hazel St., is in "fairly good" condition with a laceration of the scalp received in a fall on a stone while playing near home last night.

Nancy Quinn, 1, daughter of Mrs. Betty Quinn of Glenmoor, was treated for second degree burns of the feet received on a hot register.

Margaret Baker, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Baker, 1052 Dresden Ave., was kicked on the foot while playing ball and received a fractured toe.

William Jackson, 55, of Wellsville was treated for a cut of the lip and abrasions of the face.

Midland Parish Bazaar Will Begin Tonight

A bazaar sponsored by the parish of the Presentation Catholic Church in Midland will open tonight and continue Wednesday and Thursday.

It will be held in front of the church at Ohio Ave. and 8th St. and will feature rides, games, bake sale and parcel post. Emerie Davis, general chairman, said.

Final arrangements were made at a committee meeting Sunday.

Commissioners Order Wayne Road Vacated

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Monday vacated a mile stretch of Paulin Rd., also listed as Township Rd. 675, running east and west in the northern half of Section 26 in Wayne Township.

The commissioners viewed the road Sept. 19 and held a public hearing Monday but no one attended as all those affected had petitioned to have the road vacated.

After an hour they called in their foreign policy chiefs, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Lord Home, to help plan coordinated Allied strategy for checking Khrushchev's anti-Western offensive in the United Nations.

In the afternoon, Eisenhower arranged to get together with Canada's John Diefenbaker before ending his busy round of foreign policy talks and heading back to Washington.

The President is reported increasingly confident that numerous neutralist nations will join Western countries in defeating Khrushchev's plan to revamp the United Nations to Moscow's design.

Board Names Dean Of Girls

Miss Lois Switzer of Elkton was named dean of girls at Beaver Local High School for 1960-61 at a meeting of the Board of Education Monday night.

A salary increase was granted Mrs. Margaret Strader for advanced training, and application of William Sponsel of near Rogers as a substitute bus driver was accepted.

Discussion was held on the need for additional janitorial help at the Public School and for salary increases for cafeteria personnel, but action was delayed for further study.

A survey was also authorized concerning 3 youngsters in Sec. 25 of Madison Township, recently transferred to Beaver Local from Southern Local, who still are attending Wellsville schools. A report is expected at the next meeting.

Lee Kirkland, high school principal, was authorized to attend a meeting of Ohio secondary school principals at Columbus Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

Conduct of some students on buses was discussed with their parents. The next meeting will be Oct. 10.

Koppers Firm Makes 3 Executive Changes

Three executive changes, effective Oct. 1, at the Koppers Co., Inc., were announced today by George M. Walker, executive vice president, at Pittsburgh.

P. D. Shuller, vice president - procurement, and W. F. Alexander, director of procurement, have been transferred to the office of the president where they will devote their time to special assignments that will best utilize their extensive experience which totals some 75 years with Koppers.

J. D. Rice, formerly assistant director of procurement, has been named director of procurement.

Club To Air Project

EAST PALESTINE — The Women's Democratic Club will meet tonight at 7:30 at the City Hall for a panel discussion on a planned $836,000 municipal light plant improvement.

Village Hall Heating Aired

SALINEVILLE — Discussion of heating expenses for the Village Hall during the winter was held by Council at a meeting Monday night.

Councilmen said the gas bill sometimes amounts to $150 a month. The possibility of increasing rents for a grocery store and music studio in the building was referred to the building committee.

Also taken under consideration by the building committee was fire insurance for the coming year after Karl Lindner, insurance agent, reminded Council the policy will expire Oct. 7.

Police Chief Mellott reported on the police department for Aug. 30-Sept. 25. He said there were 3 accidents, 11 arrests, 11 warnings issued, 1,938 miles patroled, 1 breaking and entering, 5 dog complaints and 65 miscellaneous investigations made.

A transfer of $150 from the general fund to cemetery fund was approved to provide for preparing the cemetery for the winter.

Mayor Kenneth Leishman said residents with gardens should be reminded to clean up unused vegetables so that Halloweeners will not have available "ammunition."

The next meeting will be Oct. 10.

Store Begins Remodeling

The work, which is expected to require about 60 days, is part of a series of renovation projects being undertaken by the furniture firm headed by Miss Phyllis Crook.

The remodeling will include a new entrance on the east side of the building at Crook Alley and E. 5th St. with a lighted canopy extending over the sidewalk.

The remainder of the front will be a recessed display window with the latest in modern lighting, Harold Allison, general manager, said.

The company also plans to air condition the building before next spring, he added. It already has completed relighting of the first floor, replacing old fixtures with flush 48-x-48 fluorescent lighting.

Robert F. Beatty, architect, designed the new front.

"We have faith in the future of East Liverpool and we are preparing for its growth," Allison commented.

One pastor emphasized that the citizens' committee will be operated by laymen with ministers acting in the capacity of advisors and workers.

Shots Reported Fired Into Store And Motel

Firing of shots into two Columbiana County business places early this morning was being investigated today by sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Grace Gardner, operator of a service station and motel west of Lisbon on Route 30, told deputies a shot was fired through a front window and the bullet lodged in a window frame opposite.

From One Summit To The Other

On one summit is the high-minded leadership of the United States and its friends who think the world's best bet is mutual security held together by good will.

On the other summit is the rock-'em-roll-'em leadership of the Communist Conspiracy whose formula for the future is the bull-whip of absolutism.

And between the summits, in the deepening valley, are the neutralists — the countries whose wavering leaders can't make up their minds. They hate to pass up anything good from the high-minded leadership. But on the other hand, they hate to pass up the chance to blackjack the high-minded leadership with threats to join the bull-whip faction.

IF THE CHIEF spokesman for the bull-whippers talks long enough and loud enough, he might talk himself and his fellow conspirators and a few neutralists into starting their own organization.

Either they will do this eventually, or they will succeed in taking over the United Nations and bending it to their purposes so ruthlessly they would drive out the non-absolutists.

Either way, the net result would be to formalize the rivalry they are dramatizing with their actions in the U.N. General Assembly. There would be a formal organization dominated by Russian Communists.

They would declare war—cold war—against the non-Communist world. They would force all neutrals to take sides.

This is the potential consequence of what they are doing in New York City. Because every government leader on earth knows it, the leaders all are on hand to see what is going to happen. Those who aren't physically present are at the U.N. this week in spirit.

But in this kind of international power-balancing there are hazards. The United States is confronted by hazards, but so is the Soviet Union. The greatest hazard to the Soviet Union is plain.

IT IS THE possibility that the schism it is trying to create would find Russia on the minority side.

Everything the United States has been doing since the end of World War II has been designed to meet this crisis in world affairs. If this nation's good will has not shone through the murkiness of misrepresentation and confusion that hangs over the world, it is good will, itself, that has failed, not just the United States.

If the U.N.'s doctrine of mutual security has made no loyal converts by this time, there are no converts to be made.

If there is not an overwhelming majority for a "parliament of man" in which problems can be discussed and solutions agreed on, free from the black threat of violence and terror, the hopes of lasting peace is an empty, foolish dream and should never be referred to again as anything else.

IT IS AN imperfect world. The United Nations is an imperfect organization. The United States is an imperfect nation.

But in man's endless quest for something better, the United Nations and its sponsorship by the United States are the only existing means of improvement.

Those nations that agree with the Soviet Union that the whole thing should be chucked because it sometimes has and sometimes may interfere with the expansion of the Communist conspiracy should waste no time lining up with the Kremlin.

Dwight Eisenhower has maintained the position he took when World War II was over—that violence and terror should be made to yield to mutual security and international good will.

The two men are symbols of the great issue of the 20th century. Khrushchev thinks the right moment has come for him to split the nations into factions. We wish him the worst of luck.

What-If Drivers Are Best

In nearly every traffic accident, and especially the fatal ones, there was a safe alternative.

If the overwhelming majority of auto drivers did not concentrate on safe alternatives, the highways would be so dangerous that only fools would dare to use them.

"What if a school bus is topped on the other side of the hill?" asks the safe driver.

"What if a car is parked in that dark stretch ahead?"

"What if a child runs into the street in this crowded residential neighborhood?"

"What if a tire were to blow out while I was traveling at this speed?"

"What if that car approaching the intersection hit me from the side because the driver ignored the light?"

"What if this turned out to be a dead-end road?"

"What if someone might be backing out of a driveway around this blind curve"

"What if the car in front of me stopped suddenly"

The what-if driver has a hundred possibilities like these in mind all the time. It's called "defensive driving." Nearly all professional drivers and all the accident-free amateurs drive this way.

You can join their distinguished ranks by asking yourself the same questions. It's worth doing, especially in the fall when traffic accidents and fatalities are piling up to their grim year-end totals.

The Once Over

A man in the psychopathic ward tossed restlessly as he read the Khrushchev statement, "Peace on earth can be established only when all weapons are scrapped."

("There he goes again, even as he boasts largest army and most destructive rockets on earth," cried the man.)

He read the next paragraph: "The cardinal question is the problem of complete disarmament under strict international controls."

(Now the man groaned: "Who busted up the Paris Summit talks, walked out on the Geneva disarmament conference and kicked around every effort the United States proposed for controls?")

"Unfortunately certain statesmen pay lip-service to the United Nations while in actual fact they fight useful discussions by the United Nations General Assembly," was the next Nikita statement to reach the patient's eye.

(Now he screamed: "Who dat?" Could it be anybody but Soviet delegates, I ask you?")

The man read on through Khrushchev's charge, "Disarmament has been the problem for years, yet when the Soviet proposes at the United Nations to break the deadlock it is called propaganda."

(The man now got halfway out of bed despite two doctors and shrieked, "Ya gotta better name for it? How about calling it the U.S.S.R. Fact Switching Circus?")

The patient read: "If statesmen of both Russia and the United States do not strive to check the trend toward war, the ménace to the whole world will be plain to all."

Now the patient started to climb up the side walls of the psychopathic ward.

"This from the fellow who threatened to rain rockets on the United States; the guy who said he would bury us, the dictator who wanted Dag Hammarskjold, the U.N.'s foremost field agent for peace, slugged out of his job and the statesman who has blitzed every U.N. effort to limit conflict in the Congo!" yelled the patient, as he succeeded in walking across the ceiling.

"What are you doing upside down like that:" a nurse demanded. "It's easier to understand Khrushchev that way," he snapped.

A Wilton, Conn., gal says too many chicks go to college for romance. "They admit they are going off to school to meet men and their suitcases loaded with latest fashions prove it," she declares. What's wrong with a degree in Mate-Catching? and would you fault a gal voted Most Likely to Land a Nice Guy?

Cyrus Eaton, who won a Lenin Peace Prize, was at the dock to welcome Khrushchev and Commie dictators. How does this put Cyrus on the matter of respect for the President of the United States, servicemen everywhere and Americans who resent threat to shell them if they don't please Soviet in Cuban crisis? What do the draftees, the families of gallant kids who died fighting Reds in Korea, and wounded veterans think about this wealthy capitalist's greeting of Khrushchev and Kadar of Hungary?

Thirteen Yale singers are back from Russia. They report pleasant trip, except for Soviet tendency to miss full meaning of "Boola Boola" and correctly interpret the world "whiffenpoof."

The 'Dry Zone'

Tradition and innovation meet often on the pear-shaped island off the tip of India. They blend in the selection of Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, a member of an ancient ruling family, as the world's first woman prime minister.

A major concern of Mrs. Bandaranaike's government is the huge "dry zone" of Ceylon, where tradition has a strong hold upon many of the people. The zone includes most of the island, except the southwestern quarter and the mountainous area in the center.

By Ceylonese standards, the region is dry, though it gets from 40 to 75 inches of rain a year. Unfortunately, the monsoons are concentrated in three or four months. Some spots in the "wet zone" receive more than 200 inches of rain annually.

The dry zone flourished more than 2,000 years ago under a remarkable irrigation system. Sinhalese kings built huge earthen dams to block rivers and impound the seasonal waters. Artificial lakes, called "tanks" in English, covered 100 square miles. A complex network of smaller lakes and canals watered rice terraces. Prosperous villages grew up near the lakes. The kings constructed magnificent temples and palaces.

With irrigation, Ceylon developed a self-sufficient economy. Repeated invasions and civil war however, led to the neglect of the network. Tanks drained away, leaving malarial swamps. Vegetation choked the canals.

The Ceylonese government has embarked upon a monumental project to restore many ancient irrigation complexes and bring back rice culture. In the Gal Oya Valley, site of the largest project, mosquitoes have been wiped out, the jungle cleared, canals opened, hydroelectric stations built, and 40 new villages established. In the next four years, 12,000 families will be settled in the valley.

There are about 639 muscles in the human body.

More Than One Way To Pluck Chicken

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

If Khrushchev could do it, I reckoned a clean-cut American type fellow like myself could, too. So I went up to the Hotel Theresa to see Fidel Castro. Up to the ninth floor encampment I traveled surrounded by his security guards and ours. There, word was sent in.

Victor Riesel

Out of his suite he came —entourage and all. He looked me over. I stared at him. We stood alongside each other and he muttered some words in Spanish. Suddenly Castro darted off, entourage and all.

Come back tomorrow, was the word. Or better still, don't call me: I'll call you. So I left him my phone number and he and his bearded band tramped down the corridors past the sign "Public Toilets."

I'LL BE BACK, if he'll talk after reading the following:

When you're in a battle with an enemy who uses plucked chickens as a Marxist weapon, brother, you're in a fight.

This may sound counterrevolutionary but I have it from members of Local No. 6 of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union that the bewhiskered Castro diplomats not only plucked some rather stenchful fowl but cooked them in their rooms at the Hotel Shelburne. The hostelry now has the distinction of being the only embattlement besieged from the inside.

Castro and comrades are Marxists and their fowl dialectics had a motive. They wanted to be ejected.

Their obsession over dispossession is, however, no laughing matter. In all seriousness, I say that it is based on an international plot aimed at discrediting this land in Asia and Africa.

They never intended to stay in any other hotel but the Theresa in the center of the nation's most heavily populated Negro community.

It has been reported that they had reservations there before they arrived in the United States.

But the startling fact, which has not been revealed, is that these reservations for 32 rooms were made through the courtesy of and by a front for the American Communist party.

The American extension of the Soviet Central Committee has been operating out of a Harlem apartment at 640 W. 153rd st. This is the same apartment which Communist party boss, Gus Hall, has used as a hideout.

By that time there was direct and regular contact between the American CP and the Cuban Communists.

Johnson, master of all the ceremonies, saw to it that a Cuban-written resolution was passed urging the revival of American tourism in Cuba.

Before this occurred, the convention heard from Joe North, who had just returned from Havana. North spoke of "great progress" and the success of the Chinese type-Communist "agrarian reform."

Thus, when the international party apparat began planning Castro's visit, they thought immediately of the Theresa.

First it is in the center of a densely populated working man's district. Any appearance of the uniformed bearded men from Havana would immediately draw big curious crowds.

THE DIRECTORS of Castro's party did not want the Hotel Shelburne. It is on a quiet street.

At night there rarely are more than a handful of passersby. Castro could parade his entire first 18-man Sierra Maestre battalion before the hotel and not draw 100 onlookers.

These would be flashed across the world as a sign of the Soviet bloc leaders' popularity. It would take years to explain that the people of Harlem merely were curious.

Intense Communist party activity in that district over the past 40 years has failed to produce more than a handful of members out of the million people there.

Our State Department knew of all this and prevailed on the owners to let the Cubans stay. But the Castro people bolted. We got taken.

That's the nature of the enemy. To them decency, hospitality and freedom are signs of bourgeois weakness. Let's show them they are our strength.

The Golden Days

By Truman Twill

Every autumn I write a letter about the importance of going to a college football game on Saturday. But I never save the letters. That's why I must write another one every autumn.

They are addressed to my children, naturally. Whose else? And this despite the fact that football leaves them cold. At least the nonprofessional game does.

It leaves me cold, too. I wouldn't go across the street to see a college football game. But if I could arrange the time off, I'd go a long way to recapture the golden days when college football games meant something.

This whole thing, you see, is more complicated than it seems to be at first thought. It's not the football, which runs from very poor to mediocre. It's not the place where football is played. It's the memories evoked by Saturday afternoons in football season.

Before there can be memory there must be experience; hence, the autumnal letter urging attendance at a Saturday afternoon game.

Years later, with a little luck, the whole thing can be brought back to mind. . .

The cheerful exhilaration of people with nothing on their minds for the next few hours but the good time they expect to have. . .

Seeing a sports spectacle in daylight under a sunny sky, the way it was intended to be and the way that's still best, despite the commercial importance of after-dark football games. . .

Having a chance to confirm what is too easily forgotten as years and disappointments pile up — that there is no equal to and no substitute for the ebullience of youth. . .

Khrushchev Acts To Cover Up At Home

What is the real reason for Nikita Khrushchev's reckless tactics at the U.N.? The conclusion is slowly crystallizing that the Soviet premier has his mind primarily on the revolt that he is anxious to keep from breaking out someday inside the Soviet Union. His strategy is directed toward internal rather than external problems.

David Lawrence

Mr. Khrushchev doubtless feels that he doesn't have to worry about what the rest of the world says or thinks. Nothing is printed or broadcast anyhow in his own country without his permission. The Soviet premier, therefore, needs crisis after crisis to keep the minds of his people from becoming too restive over the hardships suffered as the conditions of living inside the Soviet Union fail to rise to meet the standards of the rest of the world.

The alibi given to the Russian people is that more and more money is needed for armaments.

AN EXAMINATION of recent history reveals that if there isn't a crisis going on to justify his policies, the Soviet premier has to create one.

First it was West Berlin and then, when the Allies stood firm, this war scare died down. While the U2 incident was made to order for Khrushchev's purposes, other U2 flights in the previous four years could have readily been exploited, but the Soviet premier was too much absorbed in playing the role of "peacemaker for the world" at "summit" conferences.

Shooting down the U2 gave him a chance for a quick turnabout in tactics. Khrushchev could then pose as a defender of Soviet soverignty.

He could rant and rave about the hostility of America and get more and more of the Soviet population, intellectuals particularly, to believe that he was engaged in a heroic battle to protect them against the "warmongering" West.

Like some of the intellectuals in this country, the Russians of the same species are naive. They get wrapped up in big words and dialectics.

They worry about "revision" of idologies, while all the time Khrushchev is conducting a diversionary tactic to cover up his failure to get better housing, better wages and better living for the 200 million people he is supposed to rule.

Russians are a patriotic people. So it is important for Nikita Khrushchev to keep Russian patriotism heated up to crisis temperatures all the time. Just as the Berlin crisis and the U2 crisis seemed to be dissolving in recent months, the Soviet premier deliberately ordered the RB47 to be fired upon even though it was flying over the open seas. But since the American aircraft was close to Soviet shores, this afforded an opportunity for Nikita Khrushchev to show his vigilance in defending the homeland against "surprise attack."

JUST AS SOON as the RB47 incident seemed to have yielded about as much mileage as possible for propaganda purposes, it was time to invent another crisis. So first came a deliberate intervention in the Congo and then a decision to assail the United Nations itself.

Having been defeated 70-0 on the resolution that upheld the secretary general, the Soviet premier now sees an opportunity to start a whole new series of arguments about the secretary general's office and to create an even bigger sensation in the press of his own country as the man who dictates how the U.N. shall be run.

What can be done with such a man who knows neither manners nor ethics nor morality nor integrity and who nevertheless says he speaks for 200 million people inside the Soviet Union as well as many millions more in the countries now dominated by communism?

There is only one course open. It is to direct all energies toward the people behind the Iron Curtain. By one means or another, the truth must be gotten to them. Also there must be unity inside the West.

Such naive tactics as some of the critics here and abroad display must be abandoned. It is, for instance, right up the Soviet alley for some Americans of prominence to say it was silly to limit Khrushchev's movements to Manhattan.

It was the very thing to do to a man who limits the movements of American high officials in the Soviet Union.

It was a humiliating blow for Khrushchev. Its true meaning will sooner or later reach the Soviet people and tend to deflate his position as an alleged leader of world opinion.

THE UNITED STATES and its allies must also start energetically to use the publicity weapon effectively. For though radio broadcasts are jammed by the Russians, there should be more speeches made by our own officials telling the world that Khrushchev is afraid to let his own people know what other peoples are saying or thinking.

Word-of-mouth communication is still more penetrating than any mechanical means.

Ideas beamed to eastern Europe by radio are carried over the borders by travelers and tourists, and will eventually make a sham of Khrushchev's effort to pose as a heroic worker for peace.

The West could, for instance, reopen the whole issue of "colonialism" in Hungary and the satellite states.

Why, moreover, wasn't the Soviet leader formally accused of treason against the United Nations when Communist arms and planes were sent into the Congo to thwart the U.N. military effort there?

The sooner the fight is turned on the Russian dictator himself, the sooner will the people behind the Iron Curtain wake up to the fact that an irresponsible boor is leading them to the brink of a disaster which would destroy millions of innocent men, women and children on both sides.

Debate Served 2 Purposes

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The big TV debate between the presidential candidates — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy—didn't add much new in the way of ideas but it served at least two useful purposes.

1. It gave the whole country a chance to see the two men side by side and compare them—as each argued his claim to the White House—on various grounds of personal appeal and ability to handle themselves, at least in debate.

2. It gave the whole country a chance to hear their main arguments, since what they said Monday night pretty much summed up what they've been saying since the campaign began.

So far, except for the areas visited by them, voters have had to judge them and their arguments by what the voters read in the newspapers or saw in occasional but separate appearances by them on TV.

The reason people in other countries may not see much difference between the candidates came out clearly enough when Nixon agreed the differences between him and Kennedy were not in goals but in the means of achieving them.

To Americans, however, those means—so far as any differences can be distinguished—are the important points in the campaign.

What each man said Monday night and has been saying boils down to this: "I can do it better."

There is nevertheless a rather basic difference in the two men's approach to the goals they point to.

Kennedy would have more government participation in the national life in the years ahead, explaining: "I don't believe in big government but in effective governmental action."

For example, he advocates government aid to boost teachers' salaries and he would set up a medical-care-for-the-aged program operated under the Social Security system.

Nixon is against putting medical care under Social Security and he doesn't want the government helping out on teachers' salaries on the grounds that it eventually would lead to governmental interference in education.

Thus there is—as Americans look on the role of government in every day life—a fundamental difference in the philosphy of the candidates in solving present problems.

This difference—although cluttered up with a lot of debate statistics which voters couldn't very well judge, since they don't have the statistics—was made clear by the two men as they attacked each other's arguments.

This was probably the best service the debate offered to those who will base their presidential choice on ideas, programs and attitudes instead of on personality and various forms of prejudice.

One thing neither candidate made clear was just how he was going to get his programs through Congress. It seems likely the Democrats will retain control of both houses of Congress.

From One Summit To The Other

On one summit is the high-minded leadership of the United States and its friends who think the world's best bet is mutual security held together by good will.

On the other summit is the rock-'em-roll-'em leadership of the Communist Conspiracy whose formula for the future is the bull-whip of absolutism.

And between the summits, in the deepening valley, are the neutralists — the countries whose wavering leaders can't make up their minds. They hate to pass up anything good from the high-minded leadership. But on the other hand, they hate to pass up the chance to blackjack the high-minded leadership with threats to join the bull-whip faction.

IF THE CHIEF spokesman for the bull-whippers talks long enough and loud enough, he might talk himself and his fellow conspirators and a few neutralists into starting their own organization.

Either they will do this eventually, or they will succeed in taking over the United Nations and bending it to their purposes so ruthlessly they would drive out the non-absolutists.

Either way, the net result would be to formalize the rivalry they are dramatizing with their actions in the U.N. General Assembly. There would be a formal organization dominated by Russian Communists.

They would declare war—cold war—against the non-Communist world. They would force all neutrals to take sides.

This is the potential consequence of what they are doing in New York City. Because every government leader on earth knows it, the leaders all are on hand to see what is going to happen. Those who aren't physically present are at the U.N. this week in spirit.

But in this kind of international power-balancing there are hazards. The United States is confronted by hazards, but so is the Soviet Union. The greatest hazard to the Soviet Union is plain.

IT IS THE possibility that the schism it is trying to create would find Russia on the minority side.

Everything the United States has been doing since the end of World War II has been designed to meet this crisis in world affairs. If this nation's good will has not shone through the murkiness of misrepresentation and confusion that hangs over the world, it is good will, itself, that has failed, not just the United States.

If the U.N.'s doctrine of mutual security has made no loyal converts by this time, there are no converts to be made.

If there is not an overwhelming majority for a "parliament of man" in which problems can be discussed and solutions agreed on, free from the black threat of violence and terror, the hopes of lasting peace is an empty, foolish dream and should never be referred to again as anything else.

IT IS AN imperfect world. The United Nations is an imperfect organization. The United States is an imperfect nation.

But in man's endless quest for something better, the United Nations and its sponsorship by the United States are the only existing means of improvement.

Those nations that agree with the Soviet Union that the whole thing should be chucked because it sometimes has and sometimes may interfere with the expansion of the Communist conspiracy should waste no time lining up with the Kremlin.

Dwight Eisenhower has maintained the position he took when World War II was over—that violence and terror should be made to yield to mutual security and international good will.

The two men are symbols of the great issue of the 20th century. Khrushchev thinks the right moment has come for him to split the nations into factions. We wish him the worst of luck.

What-If Drivers Are Best

In nearly every traffic accident, and especially the fatal ones, there was a safe alternative.

If the overwhelming majority of auto drivers did not concentrate on safe alternatives, the highways would be so dangerous that only fools would dare to use them.

"What if a school bus is topped on the other side of the hill?" asks the safe driver.

"What if a car is parked in that dark stretch ahead?"

"What if a child runs into the street in this crowded residential neighborhood?"

"What if a tire were to blow out while I was traveling at this speed?"

"What if that car approaching the intersection hit me from the side because the driver ignored the light?"

"What if this turned out to be a dead-end road?"

"What if someone might be backing out of a driveway around this blind curve"

"What if the car in front of me stopped suddenly"

The what-if driver has a hundred possibilities like these in mind all the time. It's called "defensive driving." Nearly all professional drivers and all the accident-free amateurs drive this way.

You can join their distinguished ranks by asking yourself the same questions. It's worth doing, especially in the fall when traffic accidents and fatalities are piling up to their grim year-end totals.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

A man in the psychopathic ward tossed restlessly as he read the Khrushchev statement, "Peace on earth can be established only when all weapons are scrapped."

("There he goes again, even as he boasts largest army and most destructive rockets on earth," cried the man.)

He read the next paragraph: "The cardinal question is the problem of complete disarmament under strict international controls."

(Now the man groaned: "Who busted up the Paris Summit talks, walked out on the Geneva disarmament conference and kicked around every effort the United States proposed for controls?")

"Unfortunately certain statesmen pay lip-service to the United Nations while in actual fact they fight useful discussions by the United Nations General Assembly," was the next Nikita statement to reach the patient's eye.

(Now he screamed: "Who did?" Could it be anybody but Soviet delegates, I ask you?")

The man read on through Khrushchev's charge, "Disarmament has been the problem for years, yet when the Soviet proposes at the United Nations to break the deadlock it is called propaganda."

(The man now got halfway out of bed despite two doctors and shrieked, "Ya gotta better name for it? How about calling it the U.S.S.R. Fact Switching Circus?")

The patient read: "If statesmen of both Russia and the United States do not strive to check the trend toward war, the menace to the whole world will be plain to all."

"This from the fellow who threatened to rain rockets on the United States; the guy who said he would bury us, the dictator who wanted Dag Hammarskjold, the U.N.'s foremost field agent for peace, slugged out of his job and the statesman who has blitzed every U.N. effort to limit conflict in the Congo!" yelled the patient, as he succeeded in walking across the ceiling.

"What are you doing upside down like that," a nurse demanded. "It's easier to understand Khrushchev that way," he snapped.

A Wilton, Conn., gal says too many chicks go to college for romance. "They admit they are going off to school to meet men and their suitcases loaded with latest fashions prove it," she declares. What's wrong with a degree in Male-Catching? and would you fault a gal voted Most Likely to Land a Nice Guy?

Cyrus Eaton, who won a Lenin Peace Prize, was at the dock to welcome Khrushchev and Commie dictators. How does this put Cyrus on the matter of respect for the President of the United States, serviceman everywhere and Americans who resent threat to shell them if they don't please Soviet in Cuban crisis? What do the draftees, the families of gallant kids who died fighting Reds in Korea, and wounded veterans think about this wealthy capitalist's greeting of Khrushchev and Kadar of Hungary?

Thirteen Yale singers are back from Russia. They report pleasant trip, except for Soviet tendency to miss full meaning of "Boola Boola" and correctly interpret the world "whilenpoof."

The 'Dry Zone'

Tradition and innovation meet often on the pear-shaped island off the tip of India. They blend in the selection of Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike, a member of an ancient ruling family, as the world's first woman prime minister.

A major concern of Mrs. Bandaranaike's government is the huge "dry zone" of Ceylon, where tradition has a strong hold upon many of the people. The zone includes most of the island, except the southwestern quarter and the mountainous area in the center.

By Ceylonese standards, the region is dry, though it gets from 40 to 75 inches of rain a year. Unfortunately, the monsoons are concentrated in three or four months. Some spots in the "wet zone" receive more than 200 inches of rain annually.

The dry zone flourished more than 2,000 years ago under a remarkable irrigation system. Sinhalese kings built huge earthen dams to block rivers and impound the seasonal waters. Artificial lakes, called "tanks" in English, covered 300 square miles. A complex network of smaller lakes and canals watered rice terraces. Prosperous villages grew up near the lakes. The kings constructed magnificent temples and palaces.

With irrigation, Ceylon developed a self-sufficient economy. Repeated invasions and civil war however, led to the neglect of the network. Tanks drained away, leaving malarial swamps. Vegetation choked the canals.

The Ceylonese government has embarked upon a monumental project to restore many ancient irrigation complexes and bring back rice culture. In the Gal Oya Valley, site of the largest project, mosquitoes have been wiped out, the jungle cleared, canals opened, hydroelectric stations built, and 40 new villages established. In the next four years, 12,000 families will be settled in the valley.

There are about 639 muscles in the human body.

More Than One Way To Pluck Chicken

By Victor Riesel

NEW YORK

If Khrushchev could do it, I reckoned a clean-cut American type fellow like myself could, too. So I went up to the Hotel Theresa to see Fidel Castro. Up to the ninth floor encampment I traveled surrounded by his security guards and ours. There, word was sent in.

Victor Riesel

Out of his suite he came—entourage and all. He looked me over. I stared at him. We stood alongside each other and he muttered some words in Spanish. Suddenly Castro darted off, entourage and all.

Come back tomorrow, was the word. Or better still, don't call me; I'll call you. So I left him my phone number and he and his bearded band tramped down the corridors past the sign "Public Toilets."

When you're in a battle with an enemy who uses plucked chickens as a Marxist weapon, brother, you're in a fight.

This may sound counterrevolutionary but I have it from members of Local No. 6 of the Hotel and Restaurant Workers Union that the bewhiskered Castro diplomats not only plucked some rather stenchful fowl but cooked them in their rooms at the Hotel Shelburne. The hostelry now has the distinction of being the only embattlement besieged from the inside.

Castro and comrades are Marxists and their fowl dialectics had a motive. They wanted to be ejected.

Their obsession over dispossession is, however, no laughing matter. In all seriousness, I say that it is based on an international plot aimed at discrediting this land in Asia and Africa.

They never intended to stay in any other hotel but the Theresa in the center of the nation's most heavily populated Negro community.

It has been reported that they had reservations there before they arrived in the United States.

But the startling fact, which has not been revealed, is that these reservations for 32 rooms were made through the courtesy of and by a front for the American Communist party.

The American extension of the Soviet Central Committee has been operating out of a Harlem apartment at 840 W. 153rd st. This is the same apartment which Communist party boss, Gus Hall, has used as a hideout.

By that time there was direct and regular contact between the American CP and the Cuban Communists.

Johnson, master of all the ceremonies, saw to it that a Cuban-written resolution was passed urging the revival of American tourism in Cuba.

Before this occurred, the convention heard from Joe North, who had just returned from Havana. North spoke of "great progress" and the success of the Chinese type-Communist "agrarian reform."

Thus, when the international party apparat began planning Castro's visit, they thought immediately of the Theresa.

First it is in the center of a densely populated working man's district. Any appearance of the uniformed bearded men from Havana would immediately draw big curious crowds.

THE DIRECTORS of Castro's party did not want the Hotel Shelburne. It is on a quiet street.

At night there rarely are more than a handful of passersby. Castro could parade his entire first 18-man Sierra Maestre battalion before the hotel and not draw 100 onlookers.

These would be flashed across the world as a sign of the Soviet bloc leaders' popularity. It would take years to explain that the people of Harlem merely were curious.

Intense Communist party activity in that district over the past 40 years has failed to produce more than a handful of members out of the million people there.

Our State Department knew of all this and prevailed on the owners to let the Cubans stay. But the Castro people bolted. We got taken.

That's the nature of the enemy. To them decency, hospitality and freedom are signs of bourgeois weakness. Let's show them they are our strength.

The Golden Days

By Truman Twill

Every autumn I write a letter about the importance of going to a college football game on Saturday. But I never save the letters. That's why I must write another one every autumn.

They are addressed to my children, naturally. Whose else? And this despite the fact that football leaves them cold. At least the non-professional game does.

It leaves me cold, too. I wouldn't go across the street to see a college football game. But if I could arrange the time off, I'd go a long way to recapture the golden days when college football games meant something.

This whole thing, you see, is more complicated than it seems to be at first thought. It's not the football, which runs from very poor to mediocre. It's not the place where football is played. It's the memories evoked by Saturday afternoons in football season.

Before there can be memory there must be experience; hence, the autumnal letter urging attendance at a Saturday afternoon game.

Years later, with a little luck, the whole thing can be brought back to mind. . .

The cheerful exhilaration of people with nothing on their minds for the next few hours but the good time they expect to have. . .

Seeing a sports spectacle in daylight under a sunny sky, the way it was intended to be and the way that's still best, despite the commercial importance of after-dark football games. . .

Having a chance to confirm what is too easily forgotten as years and disappointments pile up — that there is no equal to and no substitute for the ebullience of youth. . .

Thrilling to the breakaway run, the jolting tackle, the thunderous block, the booming punt the spiraling pass. . .

Explaining the fine points of the game. . .

These things never happened to me. I never saw a college football game until I was long out of college. But I had to know what made so many people go to games each fall, because it obviously wasn't just football that drew them. So I found out.

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The big TV debate between the presidential candidates — Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy—didn't add much new in the way of ideas but it served at least two useful purposes.

1. It gave the whole country a chance to see the two men side by side and compare them—as each argued his claim to the White House—on various grounds of personal appeal and ability to handle themselves, at least in debate.

2. It gave the whole country a chance to hear their main arguments, since what they said Monday night pretty much summed up what they've been saying since the campaign began.

So far, except for the areas visited by them, voters have had to judge them and their arguments by what the voters read in the newspapers or saw in occasional but separate appearances by them on TV.

The reason people in other countries may not see much difference between the candidates came out clearly enough when Nixon agreed the differences between him and Kennedy were not in goals but in the means of achieving them.

To Americans, however, those means—so far as any differences can be distinguished—are the important points in the campaign.

What each man said Monday night and has been saying boils down to this: "I can do it better."

There is nevertheless a rather basic difference in the two men's approach to the goals they point to.

Kennedy would have more government participation in the national life in the years ahead, explaining: "I don't believe in big government but in effective governmental action."

For example, he advocates government aid to boost teachers' salaries and he would set up a medical-care-for-the-aged program operated under the Social Security system.

Nixon is against putting medical care under Social Security and he doesn't want the government helping out on teachers' salaries on the grounds that it eventually would lead to governmental interference in education.

Thus there is—as Americans look on the role of government in every day life—a fundamental difference in the philosophy of the candidates in solving present problems.

This difference—although cluttered up with a lot of debate statistics which voters couldn't very well judge, since they don't have the statistics—was made clear by the two men as they attacked each other's arguments.

This was probably the best service the debate offered to those who will base their presidential choice on ideas, programs and attitudes instead of on personality and various forms of prejudice.

One thing neither candidate made clear was just how he was going to get his programs through Congress. It seems likely the Democrats will retain control of both houses of Congress.

Lack Of Applicants Cancels Firemen Test

A Civil Service Commission examination slated for Monday night to provide an eligibility list for the Wellsville fire department was canceled because no applications were filed.

Cedric Stanway, a member of the commission, said at least three must file to take the examination as this number is required to provide a legal list for certification.

There are no vacancies at present on the department but a new eligibility list must be made every two years.

Welfare Fund Drive Planned

idents of the campaign's purpose have been mailed to those on the water department's list of customers. Boy Scouts will hand out pamphlets in other parts of the area.

Fred G. Wilton, financial chairman, was appointed by Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, president and executive chairman, as chairman of the campaign's auditing committee. It includes William R. Black, Mrs. Jack Haggerty, Harvey Spencer and Harry H. Davis.

Midland's goal is $37,938 of Beaver County's $633,823. The national campaign is Oct. 2-Nov. 15 and the county's Oct. 2-Nov. 2.

In other business, the board approved the last payment of 1960 to the United Funds of Beaver County, amounting to $7,131, and its share of the county campaign cost, amounting to $994, all less various credits. Midland's share of the county campaign cost is 6 per cent of $16,560.

Mrs. Sally Hughes of Beaver, county chairman for the Mothers' March on Polio, requested in a letter that the board give its permission for the polio fund canvass next Jan. 29 in Midland.

The board agreed that since the polio fund group does not participate in the combined charities, then the board cannot sanction the request. Due to its by-laws, the polio fund chapter cannot join or accept funds from combined charity groups.

Lack Of Applicants Cancels Firemen Test

A Civil Service Commission examination slated for Monday night to provide an eligibility list for the Wellsville fire department was canceled because no applications were filed.

Cedric Stanway, a member of the commission, said at least three must file to take the examination as this number is required to provide a legal list for certification.

There are no vacancies at present on the department but a new eligibility list must be made every two years.

idents of the campaign's purpose have been mailed to those on the water department's list of customers. Boy Scouts will hand out pamphlets in other parts of the area.

Fred G. Wilton, financial chairman, was appointed by Atty. Edwin M. Wallover, president and executive chairman, as chairman of the campaign's auditing committee. It includes William R. Black, Mrs. Jack Haggerty, Harvey Spencer and Harry H. Davis.

Midland's goal is $37,938 of Beaver County's $633,823. The national campaign is Oct. 2-Nov. 15 and the county's Oct. 2-Nov. 2.

In other business, the board approved the last payment of 1960 to the United Funds of Beaver County, amounting to $7,131, and its share of the county campaign cost, amounting to $994, all less various credits. Midland's share of the county campaign cost is 6 per cent of $16,560.

Mrs. Sally Hughes of Beaver, county chairman for the Mothers' March on Polio, requested in a letter that the board give its permission for the polio fund canvass next Jan. 29 in Midland.

The board agreed that since the polio fund group does not participate in the combined charities, then the board cannot sanction the request. Due to its by-laws, the polio fund chapter cannot join or accept funds from combined charity groups.

It is the inherent responsibility of American newspapers to pinpoint the important issues of a political campaign and pass on to their readers the opinions and views of candidates seeking public office.

Through relentless probing and pressing for answers on vital questions, the reporter and his paper bring to the voters of the nation the essential facts upon which decisions are made at the polls.

This all-important function of the press is traditional with the newspapers of the country. An informed electorate depends on it.

Students Pick Homeroom Student Council Members

Preparing for school activities for the new term, East Liverpool High School students have chosen 33 homeroom representatives and alternates to Student Council.

Two officers have been elected to posts on the Student Council to work with two officers and an executive committee named last spring.

Student Council officers are Kenny Miller, president; Paul Jarvis, vice president; Joyce Massey, secretary, and Jean Kapp, treasurer.

Miller and Miss Massey were elected last spring, while Jarvis and Miss Kapp was named Friday, along with the homeroom representatives.

The holdover executive committee, besides Miller and Miss Massey, includes Jack Deshler and Jean Sauerbrei, juniors, and Gary Hicks and Miss Kapp, seniors.

Homeroom representatives are: Joe Costello, Sam Hays, Jarvis, Joan Leon, Nancy Payton, Bertha Prodonovich, Marian Stansbury, David Thorne, Jack Alpern, Tim Archer, Marjorie Brown, Jane Bendheim, Colleen Bucher, Tom Fannin, Skip Hall, Dave Lampman. Frances Leon, Bob McElhaney, Ann Scafide, Jeff Taylor, Vaughn Waight, Neal Birnbaum, Charlene Carroll, William Durbin, Bob Gilmore, Barbara Hager, Vickie Lamborn, Sue Montgomery, Pat Nolan, Kathy Pryor, John Sparks, Bob Waite and Dorothy Wells.

The council is making plans for the annual school elections of class officers and also is arranging to conduct a mock presidential election.

The Blue and White parties will conduct primary elections on Oct. 12, with the nominees of each party in each class meeting in the general election Oct. 19.

The mock presidential election also will be held Oct. 19 in "Operation Democracy."

Originated at Harbor High School in Ashtabula, each individual council will tally its ballots and send the results to the Ashtabula school where the final results will be announced.

First Worldwide Link On Weather Data Scheduled

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first link of a communications network that eventually will permit worldwide transmission of weather information goes into operation this week.

It is being put together by the World Meteorological Organization, an agency of the United Nations.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the U. S. Weather Bureau and a member of the international organization, said today a three-continent link of the network will begin operation Saturday.

It will bring together world weather communication centers in New York, Frankfurt, Moscow and New Delhi. Tokyo will be added next spring to complete the network for the Northern Hemisphere.

The final phase of the project calls for the establishment of a Southern Hemisphere network which will be connected with the northern one.

Political Posters On Mail Box Seen Federal Violation

Reminding both political parties and supporters of individual candidates, Postmaster Samuel M. Brown warned today placing of any type of political signs or stickers on mail boxes is a federal offense punishable by a fine and imprisonment.

Brown said he has warned both Democratic and Republican campaign headquarters to caution their workers. Those responsible for placing signs on letter drop boxes will be dealt with according to federal laws, he said.

He asked the co-operation of the public in reporting any violations at the Post Office. Parents may be held responsible if their children are involved, he said.

Brown said he was called downtown Saturday night after a complaint the stickers had been placed on a mail box. The stickers are very hard to remove and the mail boxes may have to be removed for a few days to get the material off, Brown said.

LISBON — Perry, West, Unity and Franklin Townships received $300 grants each for road maintenance after the trustees advised county commissioners Monday the townships' road funds were depleted.

FTC Cites Lisbon Firm For Forms In Debt Collection

The Federal Trade Commission at Washington has charged a Lisbon printing firm with selling deceptive debt collection forms to creditors.

The complaint against Tuseck Enterprises, Inc., doing business as the Carl Company, contends that the company's forms have the "tendency and capacity" to mislead recipients into the erroneous belief that such forms are legal documents imposing a legal obligation to respond to them.

Frank Tuseck, secretary-treasurer of the firm at 108 Washington St., said that "in our opinion the forms are perfectly legal, but we will abide by the decision reached by the commission at a hearing Dec. 5."

Tuseck said the three forms involved are standard forms produced and sent out on order.

The forms furnish creditors with the means of "misleading, confusing and deceiving" debtors, the complaint said. The forms are titled, "Final Notice Before Suit," "Demand for Payment," and "Final Notice Before Statutory Garnishment," according to the FTC.

Lisbon Youth Fellowship Unit Holds Progressive Meeting

The Youth Fellowship of the Lisbon First Christian Church held a novel "progressive" meeting Sunday evening. Eighteen attended.

Beginning at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. William Spangler on W. Washington St., where they were served appetizers, the group continued to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reese of North St., where they held group singing on the patio and the main course of the dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stockman of N. Beaver St. received the group for dessert and the program.

Following suggestions received at last week's meeting, programs were planned and projects for the year were discussed.

Next week the group will hold a wiener roast and vesper service at the home of Roger Black of Franklin Sq. Rd. During the service, prayers composed by the members will be collected for the making of prayer books, the first project.

Barbecue Supper Held

Friends held a barbecue supper at the home of Mrs. Mary Fry at Guilford Lake Saturday evening. Those attending from Lisbon were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Albright, Mr. and Mrs. Al Burson and their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tedrick of Bay Village, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Calhoun and their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Redd of Clearfield, Pa., and James Johnson of Salem.

Mrs. Richard Gween of S. Beaver St. was hostess to the Cardettes Club Friday night.

Prizes at 500 were won by Mrs. Larry Glenn, Mrs. Robert Vaughn and Mrs. Junior McCellen. Mrs. Jean Holshue was a guest. Lunch was served.

Mrs. Glenn will receive the group Oct. 7 at her home in Elkton.

The Progressive Club met Sunday, with 15 present.

Dinner was held, with the first course at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Calhoun of E. Chestnut St., the main course at the S. Lincoln Ave. home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Burson and dessert with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Albright of E. Lincoln Way.

Those attending were from Clearfield, Pa., Bay Village, Salem and Lisbon.

The group will get together next for a weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tedrick in Bay Village and will attend a ball game in Cleveland.

Couples End Trip

Mr. and Mrs. G. Cecil Rauch of E. Lincoln Way and their house guests; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Herbert of Grosse Ile, Mich., returned to Lisbon Sunday afternoon after spending several days in Cambridge and Boston, Mass., with the Rauchs' son, Bob, a student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wachter of Warren visited with Lisbon friends Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Huston of Danville, N. Y., are visiting with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Huston of E. High St.

Miss Esther Stackhouse and house guest, Mrs. George McCormick of Trenton, Mich., a former Lisbon resident, visited the end of the week with their cousin, Mrs. Charles Ganoe, at Pittsburgh.

Republic Steel's Chief Metallurgist Dies At 54

CLEVELAND (AP)—Harold L. Farling, 54, of Garfield Heights, chief metallurgist for the Cleveland division of Republic Steel Corp., died in Cleveland Clinic Hospital Monday. He joined Republic Steel in Warren in 1928 following graduation from Ohio State University and came to Cleveland as mill metallurgist in 1937. He was named chief metallurgist in 1953.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Thursday at the Brown-Forward Funeral Home in Shaker Heights.

Woman Reports Purse With $1,720 Missing

CLEVELAND (AP) — A Cleveland Heights woman told police she left her purse containing $1,720 in cash, three checks totaling $4,107, jewelry, bankbooks and stock certificates in the basement restroom of the Higbee Co. Monday.

Mrs. Bert W. Hannon said the purse was not among her packages when she arrived home. She hurried back to the store, but the purse was gone, she added. The Higbee Co. said no such purse had been turned in to its lost-and-found office.

Plans More Grants

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Procter & Gamble Co., billion-dollar soap and home products firm, plans another group of grants of over one million dollars to American colleges and universities and students. P & G announced Monday its fourth year of education grants will include $458,000 to support Procter & Gamble scholarship holders now in school, $20,000 each to 10 large colleges and universities and $112,500 to 40 associations of small and medium sized colleges.

Ends Recruit Training

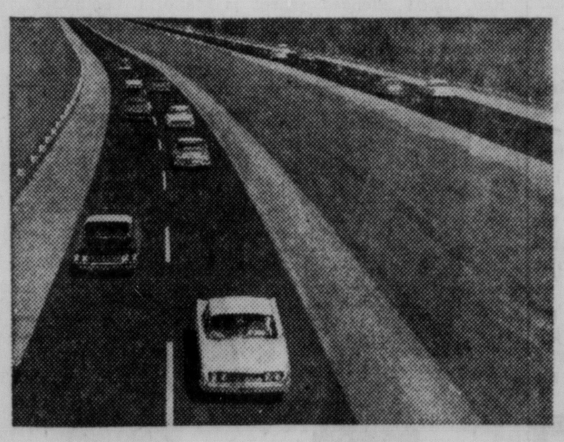
BORON SALES ARE UP! COMBINED SALES OF ALL OTHER OHIO PREMIUMS ARE DOWN!

Ohio gasoline sales figures show that sales of Boron® this year increased dramatically while the combined sales of all other premiums went down! Already there have been over a million more sales at the Boron pump this year than last! One of the reasons: more and more Ohio drivers are discovering that Boron is the premium gasoline for economy-minded drivers.



Boron has "built-in" mileage improvers to give every car maximum possible miles per gallon. Combustion control agents reduce faulty combustion that wastes gasoline. And a special carburetor detergent helps clean carburetors and keep them clean to prevent further gasoline waste.

Continued use of Boron can result in fewer repair bills. Boron makes spark plugs perform better...longer. It also contains anti-rust and anti-gum agents that keep fuel systems in trouble-free condition.

There are many other ways Boron gives you more for your money. Its clean-burning formula is changed twelve times per year to match changes in Ohio's weather. Result: easier starting, better acceleration and faster warm-ups. Boron prevents rough idling and stalling due to carburetor icing. And in winter Boron contains famous Ice-gard* that stops costly fuel line freeze-ups before they stop you! So to get the most value for your gasoline dollar, join the big switch to Boron!

National Director Is Speaker At Negro College Fund Rally

About 30 heard an address by W. Barton Beatty Jr. of New York at the kickoff luncheon of the East Liverpool area phase of the United Negro College Fund drive Monday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Beatty, national campaign director, emphasized the importance of support from residents of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester, Newell and Midland.

"Though the goal for this community is only $2,500, it represents a worthwhile portion of the national quota. It means support to 24,000 Negro youths now enrolled in member colleges," the director stressed.

Purpose of the fund is to provide better opportunities for higher education for all youth, especially Negro youth of the South, and to enable the colleges to give scholarship aid to promising students who otherwise could not continue their education.

"Education and the level of higher education are important as it relates to all youths," Beatty declared. "By-products are citizenship and the assuming of more community responsibility.

"Particularly is this true, as it relates to the Negro youth who has been deprived of equal opportunity for developing the full potential of his mind.

"The 33 colleges belonging to the United Negro College Fund are all located, with the exception of one, in the Southern states," Beatty said.

"This means that the way of life for a minority group must be keyed to the extent that they, too, will have an opportunity to compete on the basis of their training for job opportunities all over the world.

"This was re-emphasized from the standpoint of the leadership that Negroes are giving in developing the democratic approach to many of the problems that are now perplexing not only in America, but in the African countries as well."

A mail solicitation will feature the fund campaign and there will be no house-to-house drive, according to John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ and chairman of the local sponsoring committee. Caesar A. Peters is co-chairman.

The appeal was made by Walter Diehl, technical director of UNCF, for the Youngstown and Ohio Valley areas. Joseph H. Taylor of Cleveland, Region 3 director, introduced the speaker.

Checks for the drive may be sent to James Reaney, an executive of the First National Bank, who is local treasurer of the committee.

National Director Is Speaker At Negro College Fund Rally

About 30 heard an address by W. Barton Beatty Jr. of New York at the kickoff luncheon of the East Liverpool area phase of the United Negro College Fund drive Monday noon in the Travelers Hotel.

Beatty, national campaign director, emphasized the importance of support from residents of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Chester, Newell and Midland.

"Though the goal for this community is only $2,500, it represents a worthwhile portion of the national quota. It means support to 24,000 Negro youths now enrolled in member colleges," the director stressed.

Purpose of the fund is to provide better opportunities for higher education for all youth, especially Negro youth of the South, and to enable the colleges to give scholarship aid to promising students who otherwise could not continue their education.

"Education and the level of higher education are important as it relates to all youths," Beatty declared. "By-products are citizenship and the assuming of more community responsibility.

"Particularly is this true, as it relates to the Negro youth who has been deprived of equal opportunity for developing the full potential of his mind.

"The 33 colleges belonging to the United Negro College Fund are all located, with the exception of one, in the Southern states," Beatty said.

"This means that the way of life for a minority group must be keyed to the extent that they, too, will have an opportunity to compete on the basis of their training for job opportunities all over the world.

"This was re-emphasized from the standpoint of the leadership that Negroes are giving in developing the democratic approach to many of the problems that are now perplexing not only in America, but in the African countries as well."

A mail solicitation will feature the fund campaign and there will be no house-to-house drive, according to John Mostoller, minister of the First Church of Christ and chairman of the local sponsoring committee. Caesar A. Peters is co-chairman.

The appeal was made by Walter Diehl, technical director of UNCF, for the Youngstown and Ohio Valley areas. Joseph H. Taylor of Cleveland, Region 3 director, introduced the speaker.

Checks for the drive may be sent to James Reaney, an executive of the First National Bank, who is local treasurer of the committee.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a married woman in my middle 20's, and a friendly person by nature. Now I'm having trouble with my husband due to my friendliness.

He went shopping with me Saturday and the butcher called me "Honey." Then we passed a filling station and one of the garage mechanics greeted me by my first name.

A few minutes later the man in the hardware store made some remark about how nice I looked.

My husband said I should not let these people put themselves in my social class. I don't think this has anything to do with social class. I just happen to have a warm personality and that's all there is to it.

I have always hated stuck-up people and told him so. He says when women are too friendly they give the wrong impression. Please settle this.—JUST FRIENDLY.

Dear Friendly: There's nothing wrong with being pleasant to fellow human beings regardless of the type of work they do. Sometimes, however, it's not what you say but how you say it. Some women can make "hello" sound like an invitation for later.

There's an art in keeping the social temperature at just the right level. If your husband feels you are too informal, he may have a point. Keep his criticism in mind.

Chiseling Sister

Dear Ann: I just started high school and take a lot of pride in my appearance. During the summer I did baby sitting and saved all my money for clothes. I bought some very nice things.

My sister Bernadette is 18 months older than I am. She's exactly my height but she weighs about 10 pounds more. Bernadette is sloppy and lazy besides. She spends all her money on foolishness.

Whenever my back is turned she wears my clothes and ruins them. I wouldn't mind sharing my things with her but whenever I go to put on something she has worn it is ripped, has perspiration stains or is wrinkled.

I've talked to my mother but she says, "Don't be selfish." Is this fair? What can I do?—STEAMED UP.

Dear Steamed Up: No, it is not fair and your mother abdicates her responsibility when she refuses to protect your rights. Since you can get no help from her the best solution is a closet or a cedar chest if your own. A lock would solve the problem.

Battered But Unbowed

Dear Readers: I've been flooded by letters from readers (all women!) who are annoyed because I said it is "vulgar and unappetizing" for a woman to publicly take a cigarette from the lips of her husband and put it to her own.

Sorry, girls — the advice still holds. The line of the letters follows this pattern: "Why is it vulgar? We kiss those same lips!"

Of course you do—but in private, I hope. Intimate gestures are perfectly all right in private but they become gross vulgarities if others are present. It's not a matter of hygiene but of good taste.

Confidentially

TO SO SORRY NOW: Too bad you waited so long. Good intentions, like babies who cry in church, should be carried out immediately.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A social hour will follow, with Mrs. W. H. Harris Jr., and Mrs. Lillian Alpern in charge.

One Captured, 2nd Gives Up In Jail Break

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Two prisoners escaped from the Knox County Jail in Mount Vernon Monday night in the sheriff's car. One was captured later in Wooster and the other gave himself up in Mansfield.

Harry Follett, 31, of Mount Vernon was seized after his revolver went off inside a Wooster cafe. Russell Parker, 30, also of Mount Vernon, told the Richland County sheriff he hitchhiked from Wooster to Mansfield early today, then decided to surrender.

Wooster police said they captured Follett in the parking lot outside Frankie and Ward's Cafe after his .38 caliber revolver discharged inside the cafe. No one was hit by the bullet.

A man believed to be Parker fled in a car before officers got to the parking lot, police said.

Sheriff's Deputy Cleo Hess said Follett took the .38 caliber pistol from the sheriff's residence at the jail here. Hess said Sheriff Paul M. Cochran's 20-gauge shotgun also was missing.

The deputy said Follett, a trusty, took the jail cell keys from an unlocked box beside the jail office and offered to let a half-dozen prisoners go free. But only Parker took him up on the offer.

Deputy Hess said Follett had been indicted for breaking and entering, grand larceny and receiving stolen property, and Parker for breaking and entering. Both had pleaded innocent at their arraignment Monday.

The slate of new officers was presented by the nominating committee, which included Mrs. Charles Waggoner, chairman, Mrs. J. Donald Thompson, Edwin Beatty and Harold J. Allison.

Judge Tobin presided over the business meeting and expressed appreciation to the outgoing members of the board for their support. The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Ankrim and a treasurer's report by Mr. John K. Allison.

Mrs. Hays, chairman of the Gray Ladies corps, announced that 103 Gray Ladies now serving in the local hospitals and rest homes have served 5,018 hours during the last six months. She requested all Gray Ladies to attend a meeting at the Mary Patterson Friday at 8 p.m. to discuss policy, regulations and the formation of new classes.

William E. Adkins, who will chairman the 1961 fund campaign, named Harry Martin to serve on a three-man committee. William Black is a holdover member from the 1960 drive.

Additional reports were given by the following board members: Water safety, Mrs. R. J. Schiff; first aid, Frank Hancock; nursing services, Mrs. Helen Strabley Conlin; staff aides, Mrs. Neil Shope; canteen, Mrs. G. E. Balser; volunteers, Mrs. Thompson; disaster, Eugene Hall and Walker; Junior Red Cross, Mrs. F. D. Irwin, and Publicity, Mrs. Richard C. Mayers.

Refreshments were provided by Mrs. Thompson and served to 20 by Mrs. Balser following the meeting.

Charge Faces Young Driver

An 18-year-old Beechwood motorist was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol early today after the 1956 model station wagon he was driving ripped a section of cable off Dresden Ave. guard rails.

A Municipal Court hearing is pending for Jimmy Lee Kraft, 233 Center St., cited after the mishap at 12:35 this morning. Kraft told investigating officers he was inbound on Dresden Ave. about 45 to 50 miles an hour when he was forced off the road by an oncoming truck.

The auto hit the guardrail, ripping off the cable and dragging it about 200 feet, ofifcers said. The right side of the auto was damaged. It is owned by James E. Kraft of the same address, officers said.

Two autos were damaged in a mishap on Walnut St. Monday at 7:30 p. m., police said.

It involved a 1958 station wagon driven by John Howard Parsons, 27, of Curry Ln. and a 1951 four-door sedan operated by Cecil R. Price, 55, of 201 Baum St. Parsons told police he was driving south on Walnut when Price pulled from a parking space at the curb. There was damage to the front of the Parsons car and the left front door of Price's auto, police said.

Webelos Award Presented To Cub

Presentation of the Webelos, the highest award in Cub Scouting, and a candlelight induction ceremony highlighted a meeting of Cub Scout Pack 7 Sunday at St. Aloysius Parochial School auditorium.

Gary Connor was presented the Webelos award. Harry Smith, assistant scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 7, accepted him into scouting and gave him a neckerchief.

Den 2 presented a "get-out-the-vote" skit. Den 3 also gave a skit. Kuzmich presented other awards. Receiving them were John Michels and George Salsberry, gold arrows under wolf; James Musuraca and Jeffrey White, silver arrows under wolf; William Ward, silver arrow under bear; Musuraca, one-year pin, and Vincent Capraruolo and Musuraca, perfect attendance pins.

Stephen Zubay led the closing song. A spaghetti dinner will be held in the school cafeteria Sunday. A Halloween party will be held Saturday, Oct. 29.

PARIS (AP) — Air traffic was delayed at Orly and Le Bourget fields outside Paris today when technicians in the control towers declared a 12-hour strike. The strikers are demanding adjustments in working conditions.

Nixon vs. Kennedy

Most Voters Not Swayed By Debate, Survey Shows

WASHINGTON (AP)—A survey of voters in 10 major cities indicated today that a majority of those polled were not influenced by Monday night's televised debate between presidential candidates Richard M. Nixon and John F. Kennedy.

However, of those who said they were influenced by the unprecedented hour-long program, more leaned toward Kennedy than toward Nixon.

Only a few persons said they had actually switched from one candidadte to the other because of the debate.

The Associated Press survey was conducted this way: AP staffers in each of the 10 cities selected names at random from the telephone book. Those called were asked first if they were qualified voters and if they had watched or listened to the entire de'ate.

If they answered yes, they were asked if their previous inclination to vote for Kennedy or Nixon was influenced by the debate, and if so, which way and why.

The telephoning was continued until answers were obtained from 10 persons in each of the 10 cities —Chicago, Des Moines, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Seattle, Dallas, Boston, Nashville, New Orleans and New York.

Almost twice as many of those who said they were influenced thought Kennedy made a better showing than Nixon. Most of those however, said they had favored Kennedy previously and were reinforced in their opinion by the debate. Most of those who leaned toward Nixon also previously favored him.

Of the 100 persons questioned, 65 said the debate had not changed their feelings at all.

Of the 35 affected by the debate, two definitely switched from Nixon to Kennedy and 21 said the debate influenced or reinforced a preference for Kennedy.

No one said he had switched from Kennedy to Nixon and 11 said the debate influenced or reinforced a preference for Nixon. One person said he had switched but refused to disclose which candidate now had his allegiance.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a married woman in my middle 20's, and a friendly person by nature. Now I'm having trouble with my husband due to my friendliness.

He went shopping with me Saturday and the butcher called me "Honey." Then we passed a filling station and one of the garage mechanics greeted me by my first name.

A few minutes later the man in the hardware store made some remark about how nice I looked.

My husband said I should not let these people put themselves in my social class. I don't think this has anything to do with social class. I just happen to have a warm personality and that's all there is to it.

I have always hated stuck-up people and told him so. He says when women are too friendly they give the wrong impression. Please settle this.—JUST FRIENDLY.

Dear Friendly: There's nothing wrong with being pleasant to fellow human beings regardless of the type of work they do. Sometimes, however, it's not what you say but how you say it. Some women can make "hello" sound like an invitation for later.

There's an art in keeping the social temperature at just the right level. If your husband feels you are too informal, he may have a point. Keep his criticism in mind.

Chiseling Sister

Dear Ann: I just started high school and take a lot of pride in my appearance. During the summer I did baby sitting and saved all my money for clothes. I bought some very nice things.

My sister Bernadette is 18 months older than I am. She's exactly my height but she weighs about 10 pounds more. Bernadette is sloppy and lazy besides. She spends all her money on foolishness.

Whenever my back is turned she wears my clothes and ruins them. I wouldn't mind sharing my things with her but whenever I go to put on something she has worn it is ripped, has perspiration stains or is wrinkled.

I've talked to my mother but she says, "Don't be selfish." Is this fair? What can I do?—STEAMED UP.

Dear Steamed Up: No, it is not fair and your mother abdicates her responsibility when she refuses to protect your rights.

Since you can get no help from her the best solution is a closet or a cedar chest if your own. A lock would solve the problem.

Battered But Unbowed

Dear Readers: I've been flooded by letters from readers (all women!) who are annoyed because I said it is "vulgar and unappetizing" for a woman to publicly take a cigarette from the lips of her husband and put it to her own.

Sorry, girls — the advice still holds. The line of the letters follows this pattern: "Why is it vulgar? We kiss those same lips!"

Of course you do—but in private, I hope. Intimate gestures are perfectly all right in private but they become gross vulgarities if others are present. It's not a matter of hygiene but of good taste.

Confidentially

TO SO SORRY NOW: Too bad you waited so long. Good intentions, like babies who cry in church, should be carried out immediately.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

200 At Beaver PTA Meeting

About 200 attended a meeting of the Beaver Local Public School Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at the school. Roy Cashdollar, principal, and George VanHorne, executive head, spoke.

Cashdollar discussed changes in the school system and introduced teachers, and VanHorne aired school finances.

The purchase of a $221 public address system for the school multipurpose room and 28 new American flags were authorized.

Chairmen for the year were introduced, including Mrs. Mildred Cooper, program; Mrs. Marge Green, ways and means; Mrs. Stanley Wolski, parent education; Mrs. Helen Crawford, membership; Mrs. Robert Pancake, hospitality; Mrs. Mildred Emmerling, publicity, and Miss Carol Pittenger, music.

Howard Bomberger, president, was in charge. Selections were sung by the Swing Lows, a freshmen girls' group. Refreshments were served by the eighth grade mothers.

The next meeting will be Oct. 24.

Toastmistress Named For 4-H Event In Hancock

Mrs. Everett Harless of Weirton has been named toastmistress for the Hancock County 4-H achievement banquet Thursday night at 6:30 in the Weirton Community Center.

Mrs. Harless is leader of the Hilltop Ramblers 4-H Club. The Pioneer club of Pughtown will lead group singing.

A Hawaiian theme will be used for the program and will be reflected in the individual favors, programs and table decorations.

Brooke County 4-H club members will provide entertainment, including dancing and musical selections.

Miss Helen Petrakis, county agent, will award ribbons and certificates of merit for project work. Recognition will be given to members and leaders for accomplishments during the year.

The banquet, sponsored by the 4-H Leaders Association, is held each year to honor 4-H Club members who have completed projects and a year of work.

Mental Health, Child Counseling Groups To Meet

One Captured, 2nd Gives Up In Jail Break

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Two prisoners escaped from the Knox County Jail in Mount Vernon Monday night in the sheriff's car. One was captured later in Wooster and the other gave himself up in Mansfield.

Harry Follett, 31, of Mount Vernon was seized after his revolver went off inside a Wooster cafe. Russell Parker, 30, also of Mount Vernon, told the Richland County sheriff he hitchhiked from Wooster to Mansfield early today, then decided to surrender.

Wooster police said they captured Follett in the parking lot outside Frankie and Ward's Cafe after his .38 caliber revolver discharged inside the cafe. No one was hit by the bullet.

A man believed to be Parker fled in a car before officers got to the parking lot, police said.

Sheriff's Deputy Cleo Hess said Follett took the .38 caliber pistol from the sheriff's residence at the jail here. Hess said Sheriff Paul M. Cochran's 20-gauge shotgun also was missing.

The deputy said Follett, a trusty, took the jail cell keys from an unlocked box beside the jail office and offered to let a half-dozen prisoners go free. But only Parker took him up on the offer.

Deputy Hess said Follett had been indicted for breaking and entering, grand larceny and receiving stolen property, and Parker for breaking and entering. Both had pleaded innocent at their arraignment Monday.

Charge Faces Young Driver

An 18-year-old Beechwood motorist was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol early today after the 1956 model station wagon he was driving ripped a section of cable off Dresden Ave. guard rails.

A Municipal Court hearing is pending for Jimmy Lee Kraft, 233 Center St., cited after the mishap at 12:35 this morning. Kraft told investigating officers he was inbound on Dresden Ave. about 45 to 50 miles an hour when he was forced off the road by an oncoming truck.

The auto hit the guardrail, ripping off the cable and dragging it about 200 feet, officers said. The right side of the auto was damaged. It is owned by James E. Kraft of the same address, officers said.

Two autos were damaged in a mishap on Walnut St. Monday at 7:30 p. m., police said.

It involved a 1958 station wagon driven by John Howard Parsons, 27, of Curry Ln. and a 1951 four-door sedan operated by Cecil R. Price, 55, of 201 Baum St. Parsons told police he was driving south on Walnut when Price pulled from a parking space at the curb. There was damage to the front of the Parsons car and the left front door of Price's auto, police said.

The Associated Press survey was conducted this way: AP staffers in each of the 10 cities selected names at random from the telephone book. Those called were asked first if they were qualified voters and if they had watched or listened to the entire de'ate.

If they answered yes, they were asked if their previous inclination to vote for Kennedy or Nixon was influenced by the debate, and if so, which way and why.

The telephoning was continued until answers were obtained from 10 persons in each of the 10 cities —Chicago, Des Moines, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Seattle, Dallas, Boston, Nashville, New Orleans and New York.

Almost twice as many of those who said they were influenced thought Kennedy made a better showing than Nixon. Most of those however, said they had favored Kennedy previously and were reinforced in their opinion by the debate. Most of those who leaned toward Nixon also previously favored him.

Of the 100 persons questioned, 65 said the debate had not changed their feelings at all.

Of the 35 affected by the debate, two definitely switched from Nixon to Kennedy and 21 said the debate influenced or reinforced a preference for Kennedy.

No one said he had switched from Kennedy to Nixon and 11 said the debate influenced or reinforced a preference for Nixon. One person said he had switched but refused to disclose which candidate now had his allegiance.

Nixon Slated In Charleston Talk Tonight

He follows by eight days his opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy.

Neither candidate has announced any plans of returning during the less than six weeks that remain before the general election.

Kennedy's appearance came at a daylong "Conference on New Jobs and New Growth" in which Democratic governors, senators and representatives from nine states took part.

Nixon has arranged nothing comparable to precede his appearance. He will simply fly into Kanawha Airport at 8 p. m. EDT with his wife and personal staff, drive down to the Civic Center in a motorcade, speak on a seven-station television network from 9 to 9:30, go back to the airport and fly out.

No out-of-state big name Republicans will be on hand, as there were out-of-state big-name Democrats for Kennedy. But the state party will be fully represented.

Gov. Underwood is breaking away early from the Southern Governors Conference at Hot Springs, Ark., to lead the delegation at the airport. With him will be National Committeeman Walter S. Hallanan, National Committeewoman Perle T. Harman, Republican gubernatorial nominee Harold E. Neely, Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., and State Republican Chairman Daniel L. Louchery, to name only a few.

Nixon is going to stay at the airport about 20 minutes, so he can make a brief speech to the crowd there.

Once he gets down to the Civic Center, which can accommodate 7,500, he will be welcomed by Mayor John Sahnklin.

Salem District Youth Cited For Road Crash

Glenn Joy, 17, of Salem R. D. 3 was cited by the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon Monday after his car struck a truck driven by a Salineville area man on Route 9 near Hanoverton.

Joy was headed south when he lost control of the car on a curve and struck the tractor-trailer rig operated by George Brothers, 32, of Salineville R. D. 2, causing heavy damage to the auto. Neither driver was hurt, according to officers, who charged Joy with reckless operation.

Final Reports Given

Girl Scout Council Officers Seated

New officers of the East Liverpool Area Girl Scout Council are shown following installation Monday night at the Little House in Dixonville.

The retiring president opened business and introduced new council members, Mrs. John M. Koos, Mrs. J. Nessly Porter and Mrs. Louis Tobin.

Mrs. Charles R. Waggoner, secretary, and Miss Auld, treasurer, read reports.

Past accomplishments and future promotional ideas were given in the final reports of Mrs. Fred Lawrence, membership; Mrs. Waggoner, public relations; Mrs. McEldowney, personnel; Mrs. Beatty, program; Mrs. Sidney Porter, properties; Mrs. Ben Warner, camp; Mrs. William Ogilvie, finance, and Mrs. John Kozora, troop organization.

Mrs. Donald Ogilvie thanked the group for co-operation during her term and turned the meeting over to the new president, who named the standing committees for the ensuing year. The year has been changed from January to September.

They are, with chairman listed first, Mrs. Everett Chandler, Mrs. Charles Bailey and Mrs. Joseph Prager, membership; Mrs. J. Nessly Porter, Mrs. Donald Ogilvie and Mrs. Lester Hall, public relations; Mrs. Prager, Mrs. Arthur Eddy and Mrs. Ceasar Peters, training, and Mrs. Lawrence, Mrs. Charles Gerace and Mrs. McEldowney, personnel, office and staff.

Mrs. Fred Banfield, Mrs. Tobin and Mrs. Koos, program; Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Blake, properties; Mrs. Warner, Mrs. Kinsey, Mrs. Edwin Bayley, Mrs. W. A. Sprouse and Mrs. Raymond Galloway, camp, and Mrs. Leslie Blumenthal, Juliette Lowe.

Mrs. William Ogilvie, Mrs. Thomas Doland, Mrs. Blumenthal, Mrs. Porter and Miss Auld, finance; Mrs. Kozora and Mrs. McEldowney, troop organization, and Mrs. Doland and Mrs. Clarence Nease, special events.

The next meeting will be Oct. 24 at the Little House.

Lisbon Council Enacts Boost In Gas Rates

LISBON — Council Monday evening passed on third reading the new gas rate ordinance providing for a 7.8 per cent increase for the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co.

The vote was 3-2, Robert Kelm, Joseph Dornon and Fred Steele approving, and Raymond Dixon and Mrs. Blanche Neill opposed. The sixth council post remains vacant as Robert Lower has resigned.

Council also voted to stay on Daylight Saving Time until Sunday, Oct. 30, going along with neighboring towns.

Kelm reported on his conference with Commissioner Walter Hunston on the county's proposal to erect a dog pound in a S. Jefferson St. building now being used by Lewis Chevrolet for new car storage.

The town now has no zoning ordinance prohibiting construction of the pound for the dog warden. The county now keeps stray dogs in two stalls at the County Home barn. Councilmen will request that commissioners consult with them at the next meeting to go over the plans and details before anything is done. Council commented the county has a 400-acre farm at the county home and "now wants to buy a building inside the village to keep stray dogs."

The provisional appointment of Ross Gallo of N. Beaver St. and Don Carman of Summit St. as new members of the village volunteer fire department was authorized to bring the group's strength up to 21 men. Council noted that the 3 top men in the department work out of town, as do 9 of 19 members.

Purchase a new snow plow for the village truck from Howard Adams of Salineville, for $300, was authorized, providing there is enough money in their general fund. Ray Hempstead, clerk-treasurer, is on vacation and was not present to discuss finances last night.

Insurance for the firemen's ambulance was discussed by Steele and Council will ask that a representative of the G. Cecil Rauch Agency be present at the next meeting to go over a policy on the emergency vehicle.

The next meeting is Monday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p. m.

Further Plans Are Outlined In Fund Drive

October campaign plans were advanced when the Board of Trustees of the Community Fund Association met Monday night at the YMCA.

Chairman William A. Black briefly reviewed the progress and offered the suggestion that the directors give thought to a united drive within a year or two.

In discussing an operating procedure for such a program, he said the drive could be handled by volunteers from all participating agencies who would serve in a three-year capacity, being replaced as the need arose.

He emphasized that the success of the plan would depend on two principal factors — a workable payroll deduction plan and an all-out cooperative effort on the part of participating agencies.

'Plane' Crashes In West Point But It's Model

The State Highway Patrol today completed its investigation of a crash of a plane into a West Point area home in which neither the pilot nor homeowner was injured—because the pilot was five miles away and the plane was only four feet long.

The patrol undertook a weekend search for the pilot after Mrs. Helen Stoll of Route 30 south of West Point reported the radio-controlled plane flew into the window of her home, breaking the glass, damaging the frame and causing other interior damage.

The plane, with a 6-foot wing span, struck the home about 7 p. m., and the patrol had radio stations announce that such a plane had been found and the owner could obtain it from officers.

Charles J. Hanlon Jr., 37, of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, heard of the report, and advised the patrol he was the operator of the plane. Hanlon said he was flying the model at the Swaney Airport off Route 267 near Glenmoor when he lost radio contact.

The patrol said it will have to file the investigation among its records, listing it under "unusual reports."

YMCA To Give Swim Classes

Special swimming classes will be offered at the YMCA for boys between 9 and 17, starting Monday. The different classes to be offered are minnow, fish, flying fish and shark, according to Jack Gibbons, physical director.

The minnow class is for boys who do not know how to swim and will meet every Monday at 4:15, starting next week.

The fish class, for boys who already know how to swim, will meet every Tuesday at 4:15 p. m., beginning Oct. 4.

The flying fish and shark class, for boys who are advanced swimmers, will meet every Thursday at 4:15 p. m. beginning Oct. 6.

Beginning Tuesday, the Y will also offer a 6-week Junior and Senior life-saving course. The class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 8 p. m.

This course will be offered boys 12 and older and who are members of the Y.

For further information, contact the Y at FU. 5-0663.

The Martha Circle of the Lisbon Presbyterian Church was to meet today with Mrs. Jay Eells.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Apple, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eells and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dickey attended the Steam Engine Historical Association show Saturday at Burgettstown.

Robert Smith, son of Ted Smith of near Elkton and Mrs. Bessie Devan of Lisbon, has enrolled at Kent State University to major in physics.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Nettie Wolfe were Mr. and Mrs. Red Taylor of Grove City and Charles Shane and son of Antiquity.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Harrold and family visit her sister, Miss Carolyn Daugherty, of Steubenville Sunday.

Mrs. Velma Rudibaugh and Mr. and Mrs. William Rudibaugh spent Sunday with Miss Ihla Rae Rudibaugh, a patient at St. Francis Hospital at Pittsburgh.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lonas of Clariton, Pa., were Saturday visitors of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Booth.

Daw Junior PTA Fills Presidency

Mrs. Lois Campbell was elected president of the Daw Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association Monday night at the Wellsville building.

She succeeds Richard Grills, who resigned due to his appointment to the Board of Education. Mrs. Campbell was installed by Mrs. Marge Dysert, Columbiana County PTA Council president.

Mrs. Dysert presided. Mrs. Betty Whalen of Salineville, past president of the county council, spoke on "The Object of Junior High PTA."

Mrs. Marilyn Solak, assistant superintendent of Columbia County secondary schools, discussed "Adolescent Age." She emphasized the need of better understanding between parents and teachers.

James Ferry, principal, introduced the teachers. Membership dues were collected.

Tiberias, Isreal, on the Sea of Galilee, has been a favorite winter resort since Roman days. It is famed for the curative qualities of its hot springs.

four nationally televised appearances was good for the country and would increase the turnout of voters Nov. 8.

"Very good," Nixon said of the debate. "Very sharp exchanges."

Kennedy, standing by, nodded and said, "Very useful."

While both seemed nervous in the studio before the debate started, they were at least moderately self-assured once the performance got under way.

Opening the debate, Kennedy called for "effective government action," saying: "I think it is time America started moving again."

While Nixon agreed that "we are in a deadly competition" with Moscow and Peiping, he called Kennedy's proposals for moving the economy ahead "simply retreads of the programs of the Truman administration."

He contended, as he has all along, that during the Eisenhower administration more schools have been built and more electric power developed than any administration in history while also building more houses and highways.

Kennedy said he does not think "we are doing enough," that he is "not satisfied with the progress we are making" with 50 per cent of the country's steel capacity unused, for example.

Kennedy said he would not unbalance the budget except in "a grave national emergency," but that the nation's needs are so great he does not see an opportunity for debt reduction in the next few years. Nixon, chiding him, said the Democratic platform mentions paring the national debt.

Nixon said his own farm plan would rescue the farmers from the price-depressing surpluses overhanging the market while Kennedy's would lead to more government control and higher consumer prices.

Kennedy said, in return, that the administration's farm policy has failed, and that Nixon's proposals are not "very much different" from those of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

Both candidates voiced their support of federal aid to school construction. Kennedy also called for federal subsidies to the states to increase teachers' salaries.

Little Theater Plans Tryouts

A Tri-County Players Group has been formed, with headquarters at Sebring, and will start Thursday with tryouts for its first major production, "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

The organization will include the former Columbiana County Players Group and Thespians from Mahoning and Stark counties.

The group has obtained the Strand Theater in Sebring as a permanent home and is making plans to renovate the building to make it suitable for live dramas.

It is hoped that the Tri-County Group can present four productions annually.

Tryouts will be held Thursday night at 7 at the Sebring Theater. The cast will include 36 persons in addition to stage and production crews.

Lisbon Council Enacts Boost In Gas Rates

LISBON — Council Monday evening passed on third reading the new gas rate ordinance providing for a 7.8 per cent increase for the Ohio Fuel & Gas Co.

The vote was 3-2, Robert Kelm, Joseph Dornon and Fred Steele approving, and Raymond Dixon and Mrs. Blanche Neill opposed. The sixth council post remains vacant as Robert Lower has resigned.

Council also voted to stay on Daylight Saving Time until Sunday, Oct. 30, going along with neighboring towns.

Kelm reported on his conference with Commissioner Walter Hunston on the county's proposal to erect a dog pound in a S. Jefferson St. building now being used by Lewis Chevrolet for new car storage.

The town now has no zoning ordinance prohibiting construction of the pound for the dog warden. The county now keeps stray dogs in two stalls at the County Home barn. Councilmen will request that commissioners consult with them at the next meeting to go over the plans and details before anything is done. Council commented the county has a 400-acre farm at the county home and "now wants to buy a building inside the village to keep stray dogs."

The provisional appointment of Ross Gallo of N. Beaver St. and Don Carman of Summit St. as new members of the village volunteer fire department was authorized to bring the group's strength up to 21 men. Council noted that the 3 top men in the department work out of town, as do 9 of 19 members.

Purchase a new snow plow for the village truck from Howard Adams of Salineville, for $300, was authorized, providing there is enough money in their general fund. Ray Hempstead, clerk-treasurer, is on vacation and was not present to discuss finances last night.

Insurance for the firemen's ambulance was discussed by Steele and Council will ask that a representative of the G. Cecil Rauch Agency be present at the next meeting to go over a policy on the emergency vehicle.

The next meeting is Monday, Oct. 10, at 7:30 p. m.

Mt. Nebo Grange To Seat Officers

LISBON — Charles L. Morlan will be installed as master of the Mt. Nebo Grange Wednesday evening at the Grange Hall for his second term.

Others to be seated by a team from the Yellow Creek Grange are Ernest Tullis, overseer; Mrs. Guy L. Frantz, lecturer; Lloyd Bailey, steward; Ronald Wilhelm, assistant steward; Mrs. Merle McPherson, chaplain; Guy L. Frantz, treasurer; Mrs. Charles L. Morlan, secretary; Oliver Bailey, gatekeeper; Mrs. Dorothy Farmer, Flora; Mrs. Kathryn Bailey, Ceres; Carol Bailey, Pomona; Mrs. Gladys Wilhelm, lady assistant steward, and Morlan, member of the executive committee.

Lunch will follow and all Mt. Nebo members are asked to bring pie or sandwiches.

Land Buying Nears End

CINCINNATI (AP) — City officials say land buying for the $2 million parking program around Crosley Field is nearly complete and there will be parking available for up to 2,000 autos at start of next season. The city real estate division reported Monday only one parcel of property remains to be bought.

MOSCOW (AP) — Tass announced direct radio telegraph communications were established today between Moscow and Havana.

Further Plans Are Outlined In Fund Drive

October campaign plans were advanced when the Board of Trustees of the Community Fund Association met Monday night at the YMCA.

Chairman William A. Black briefly reviewed the progress and offered the suggestion that the directors give thought to a united drive within a year or two.

In discussing an operating procedure for such a program, he said the drive could be handled by volunteers from all participating agencies who would serve in a three-year capacity, being replaced as the need arose.

He emphasized that the success of the plan would depend on two principal factors — a workable payroll deduction plan and an all-out cooperative effort on the part of participating agencies.

'Plane' Crashes In West Point But It's Model

The State Highway Patrol today completed its investigation of a crash of a plane into a West Point area home in which neither the pilot nor homeowner was injured—because the pilot was five miles away and the plane was only four feet long.

The patrol undertook a weekend search for the pilot after Mrs. Helen Stoll of Route 30 south of West Point reported the radio-controlled plane flew into the window of her home, breaking the glass, damaging the frame and causing other interior damage.

The plane, with a 6-foot wing span, struck the home about 7 p. m., and the patrol had radio stations announce that such a plane had been found and the owner could obtain it from officers.

Charles J. Hanlon Jr., 37, of 18th St. Heights, Wellsville, heard of the report, and advised the patrol he was the operator of the plane. Hanlon said he was flying the model at the Swaney Airport off Route 267 near Glenmoor when he lost radio contact.

The patrol said it will have to file the investigation among its records, listing it under "unusual reports."

2 City Autoists Among 5 Fined

Two city drivers were among 5 fined $85 and costs at hearings before County Judge Earl Spalding at East Palestine Friday and Saturday. No hearings were held Monday.

Charles W. Watkins, 55, of 5th Ave., LaCroft, was fined $15 and costs for stopping on the highway, and Alice Poynter, 30, of Lisbon R. D. 1 was fined $15 and costs for failure to stop in the assured clear distance. They were involved in a crash on Route 30 last week.

Sanford Fitzsimmons, 55, of R. D. 2 was fined $20 and costs for reckless operation after he pleaded not guilty.

Henry Dillinger, 20, of Lisbon was fined $30 and costs for crossing the yellow line, and Lawrence Peters, 20, of Rogers R. D. 1 $25 and costs for reckless operation.

YMCA To Give Swim Classes

Special swimming classes will be offered at the YMCA for boys between 9 and 17, starting Monday. The different classes to be offered are minnow, fish, flying fish and shark, according to Jack Gibbons, physical director.

The minnow class is for boys who do not know how to swim and will meet every Monday at 4:15, starting next week.

The fish class, for boys who already know how to swim, will meet every Tuesday at 4:15 p. m., beginning Oct. 4.

The flying fish and shark class, for boys who are advanced swimmers, will meet every Thursday at 4:15 p. m. beginning Oct. 6.

Beginning Tuesday, the Y will also offer a 6-week Junior and Senior life-saving course. The class will meet every Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 8 p. m.

This course will be offered boys 12 and older and who are members of the Y.

McLaughlin Runs Wild . . .

If there was a "player of the week award," it would go hands down to Ron McLaughlin, Beaver Local's fine halfback.

The youngster scored five touchdowns in Beaver Local's 36-8 win over Stanton Local Saturday. This is the first such scoring feat since Jim Lindner, now regular center for Ohio State, scored five touchdowns and three extra points for East Palestine in 1956.

That year Lindner wound up as the district's leading scorer. And at this moment McLaughlin is the top pointmaker around the area.

In only three games, McLaughlin has scored 50 points, coming on 8 touchdowns and two extra points. His nearest competitor is Ron Janovec of Salem, who has tallied 40 markers, and Fairfield-Waterford's Larry Webber with 38.

AN ODDITY of the 1960 football season in Ohio occurred at Columbiana, where the lights went out Friday night.

Poland, the visiting team, held a 20-0 lead when all went black.

The teams will complete the game on Monday Oct. 3. It will resume at the start of the second half.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Kenny Cunningham was thrown three touchdowns passes and scored two TDs himself.

The value of tackle Skip Hall to the Potters was demonstrated Friday night. With Skip out of there, the Girard backs ripped through the Potter line over the spot where Hall normally plays.

We feel that official John Russ could have warned both Hall and the Girard tackle before ejecting them from the game.

Saturday Afternoon Heroes . . .

THREE EAST Liverpool gridders did quite well for themselves on the college gridiron Saturday.

At Lafayette, Ind., Bernie Allen, who did not start by the way, was Coach Jack Mollenkopf's ace in the hole when he fired for a touchdown pass and conversion pass to tie UCLA, 27-27.

The socre was 27-19 with UCLA leading when Allen tossed a 10-yard pass to John Greiner to move to the UCLA 28-yard line. On the next play Allen hit Harris in the end zone for the TD.

After Purdue called time out to talk over the play for the two points, Allen hit Greiner in the left corner of the end zone for the two-point conversion.

While Allen was playing the hero role at Lafayette, another former Potter quarterback — Jim Potts— fired the winning touchdown pass in the third quarter to give Bowling Green a 14-7 win over Marshall in a Mid-American Conference battle.

Saturday's performance also put Potts among the passing leaders in the conference. Besides his touchdown pass Jim showed 8 completions in 12 attempts for 109 yards.

He now ranks third in the passing department according to statistics released by the Mid-American Conference.

Nick was the top ground gainer, picking up 115 yards. His touchdowns came on a 24-yard run and on a 1-yard plunge.

'Female Touch' Helps . . .

IT WAS gratifying to learn of the recent organization of the Potters Ladies Booster Club which held its second meeting Monday night in the YMCA.

The first project designated by the football mothers will be to provide a lunch for the Potter squad on Thursday nights after practice and on Friday nights after regular games.

By providing refreshments after the Thursday night practice sessions, the women have eliminated a problem of the Potter players having to rush home for dinner and hurry to a movie that night.

We feel certain that the team also will appreciate refreshments after action on Friday nights.

Serving as temporary officers are Mrs. Alma Hall, chairman, Mrs. Beryl Couch, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Griffith, treasurer. New officers will be elected after the club is completely organized.

We wish to extend our sincerest best wishes for the success of the Potters Ladies Booster Club in all its endeavors of helping to promote athletics in the city. The "female touch" in all probability will greatly add to the morale of East Liverpool athletes.

The club will hold its next meeting Monday night at Patterson Field and see movies of the East Liverpool-[illegible] game scheduled Friday night.

This 'N That In Football . . .

OVER AT Thiel College in Greenville, Pa., East Palestine's Willis Woods is slated for a starting berth with the Tomcats.

JOHN KARAFFA, an insurance executive in Indianapolis and former East Liverpool basketball coach, sat in on the Purdue-UCLA game Saturday to see Bernie Allen in action. John was Bernie's high school basketball coach.

—:—

AFL Dismisses Anti-Trust Suit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League said Monday night that dismissal of the league's anti-trust suit against members of the western division of the National Football League would have little effect on the case.

A federal district judge Monday dismissed the American Football League's $10 million suit against six western teams in the NFL.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled in Washington that the suit had been properly filed against six teams in the eastern division of the NFL and Baltimore in the western division.

He ruled that New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis could be sued because their appearances in Washington are regular.

The AFL charges a conspiracy by the older NFL to monopolize football, including attempts to monopolize players and franchise and television rights.

Foss said "the whole league is involved regardless of whether part of the clubs are not actually being sued."

FIGHT RESULTS

Leafs' Jim King Voted As IL's Most Valuable

This was announced today by league president Frank Shaughnessy following a vote of the circuit's baseball writers. King, an outfielder, won by a single point over Buffalo outfielder Don Landrum.

Flags Clinched But Scramble Continues

Yanks Extend String To 10 Straight

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Pirates, still aglow after winning their first National League pennant in 33 years, were idle Monday, the Yanks, American League champs for the 10th time in a dozen years under Manager Casey Stengel, kept humming with a 4-2 victory at Washington in 10 innings.

It was the 10th straight success for the Yankees, the longest of the year in the majors and the champs' best string since 1958, when they also won 10 in a row.

The races for a chunk of World Series cash, split among the first-division clubs in each league, centered around Milwaukee-St. Louis and Los Angeles-San Francisco in the NL; and the Chicago-Baltimore and Cleveland-Washington in the AL.

Chicago's White Sox, battling to keep intact manager Al Lopez' record of never having finished lower than second, pulled into a second-place tie with idle Baltimore by beating Detroit 6-3. Cleveland lost 6-1 at Kansas City, but retained a 1½-game edge over Washington for fourth place.

Milwaukee and St. Louis were idle, leaving the Braves a half-game in front of the Cards. San Francisco moved within 2½ games of fourth-place Los Angeles by beating the Dodgers 6-2 in the only NL game scheduled.

The Yankees, keeping the remaining races "honest", started most of their regulars at Washington, but finished by using 20 players. They had to bounce back with two runs in the 10th inning for the majors' longest streak since Kansas City won 11 in a row last season.

A pinch single by Hector Lopez broke up a 2-2 tie, after a double by Bob Cerv and a walk. Dale Long, who homered in the second inning, capped the rally with a single off loser Pedro Ramos (11-17). Duke Maas (3-1) was the winner in relief of rookie Bill Stafford, who gave up Harmon Killebrew's 31st home run, a tying, two-run shot in the seventh.

Minnie Minoso was 3-for-3, belted his 20th home run and drove in two runs along with Luis Aparicio as the White Sox beat Bill Fischer (8-8). Frank Baumann was the winner for a 13-6 record.

Southpaw Bud Daley (16-15) beat Cleveland with a four-hitter —his first victory over the Indians this season—while the A's backed him with 14 hits, one a homer by Pete Daley. Dick Stigman (5-11) was the loser.

The Giants, shut out on three hits for seven innings, scored all their runs in the eighth, three on Don Blasingame's triple. That beat Don Drysdale (14-14), who had won seven in a row at the Coliseum. Mike McCormick (14-12) was the winner.

CHAMPS GET TROPHY. Manager John Andrason of Cox-Merchants accepts a trophy donated by Quaker Oats Co. from Clair Coleman in recognition of his team winning the 1960 City Baseball League crown. Coleman, an infielder, was known as "Mr. Speed" whe he starred in the league for 20 years in the 1920's and '30's. Looking on are E. W. VanFossan of Pittsburgh (left), district representative of Quaker Oats Co., and Bob Gessford of Cox-Merchants (right), who won the league batting championship with a .432 average. Gessford, injured near the close of the season, received a Louisville Slugger batting certificate. The 47-year-old Andrason guided the team to a 15-5 league record and 24-9 overall. Pitcher Dick Chamberlain was 8-0 for the league, and 9-1 for the season.

Clash In Big One Saturday

Kansas Trio May Spell Trouble For Orangemen

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Eight title, national ranking and other notions of football grandeur have been bouncing through the minds of the Kansas Jayhawks this year. They might have some basis for this rarely practiced optimism, even with second-ranked Syracuse coming to town Saturday.

The Jayhawk fans give three reasons: John Hadl, whose backfield versatility enables him to operate between quarterback and halfback; Curtis McClinton, a halfback, and his sophomore running mate, Bert Coan. You can't fault them so far, and the last to disagree is Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder.

The trio, in two games, has scored 6 of Kansas' 8 touchdowns as the Jays rolled over a stunned Texas Christian team 21-7 and easily defeated Kansas State 41-0.

So far they seem to have borne out Coach Jack Mitchell's preseason evaluation of the team being "10 times better than last year." It finished in '59 with a 5-5 record, including a 7-6 loss to Oklahoma and a 35-21 loss to Syracuse.

However Mitchell is being his usual cagey self while his team preps for the game.

"We're better than last year, but how much better we don't know," he said, referring to the chances of his trio of swifties to get through the rugged Syracuse line. "Syracuse has the best defense in college football. We haven't played any real great football teams yet."

Syracuse allowed Boston University only two yards rushing and 25 passing in a 35-7 victory last Saturday.

Hadl did better than that himself against TCU. He scored on runs of 52 and 16 yards. Coan rallied twice against K-State on 3 yard bursts and once against TCU from the 1-yard line. McClinton also scored from a yard out against Kansas State, and ground out 91 yards in 16 carries. Coan picked up 84 yards in 10 trips.

If this trio can't turn the trick in the nationally televised game then Syracuse has overcome one of the biggest obstacles toward another undefeated season and fifth-ranked Kansas will have to put all its eggs in the basket marked "Big Eight title."

Steelers Receive Crucial Test At Cleveland Sunday

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland coach Paul Brown feels the team's 41-24 victory in the National Football League opener at Philadelphia "is a reassuring start but that's tempered with the knowledge of what's coming up."

And coming up is the Buddy Parker-coached Pittsburgh Steelers, featuring the great Bobby Layne at quarterback. Parker and Layne held a big edge over Brown and Cleveland when the two were at Detroit and the Steelers won both games against the Browns last season.

Cleveland is expecting a crowd of close to 70,000 for the game at Municipal Stadium Sunday.

"They found out they could do it," he said. "I realize that the early jump we got on the Eagles (the Browns led 14-0 in the first period) helped put us across, but I'm satisfied the way things went.

The Steelers came from two touchdowns behind last Saturday night to trip the Dallas Cowboys, 35-28, as Layne passed for four touchdowns and hit on 16 of 25 passes for 288 yards. Layne also pushed his total passing yardage to 22,350 for an NFL career record.

The Steelers have a veteran team—only one of the players is a rookie—and some of the performers are former Clevelanders. These include Preston Carpenter and Pete Brewster at offensive end and Junior Wren in the defensive backfield.

Pittsburgh has a strong defensive line, but may have a weakness with linebacking and in the secondary, Jimmy Orr, Buddy Dial, Brewster, Jack McClairen and Carpenter are the top receivers for Layne's passes.

The former Texas star is expected to put pressure on the young Cleveland defensive backfield, which came through with three interceptions against Norm Van Brocklin's passing attack.

Purkey Looks For 18th Win At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Cincinnati's Bob Purkey tries again tonight to take his 18th victory of the year, this time from Pittsburgh's National League champions.

His opposition will be Vern Law, the sharpshooter who 10 days ago won his 20th victory at the expense of the Reds, 5-3, at Crosley Field.

This is the last game of the year for Cincinnati against Pittsburgh which leads 15-6 on the season.

The Reds Monday swapped catcher Frank House to their Jersey City farm team for pitcher Howie Nunn. Nunn had a 12-6 record with the International League team the past season.

Russian Weightlifter Betters World Record

LONDON (AP) — Russia's bantamweight champion weightlifter, Stepan Ulanov, has bettered his own world record for the press. He lifted 113 kilograms (248.6 pounds) Moscow Radio said today.

Ulanov's performance, at a weightlifting competition in the Russian Federated Republic, was 2.5 kilograms (5.5) pounds) better than the world record he set last year.

Mississippi, Syracuse Run One, Two In Poll

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Syracuse, the defending national champion and an easy winner in its only start to date this year, still ranks second to Mississippi in the opinion of The Associated Press panel of experts selected to determine the ranking of the nation's college football teams.

Mississippi, which swamped Kentucky last Saturday night 21-6 for its second victory, today held a slim margin over Syracuse in the poll with a point total of 426 to 414 for the Orangemen. Old Miss got 22 first place votes from the 48 sports writers and broadcasters to 20 for Syracuse, which breezed over Boston University last week 35-7.

Washington, with two victories in as many starts, was in third place with 353 points and five first places, and Illinois placed fourth with 235 points.

The top teams with first place votes in parentheses (Points based on a 10-9-8-7, etc., order):

Big O Bags 33 Points As Royals Beat Pistons

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Oscar Robertson, former University of Cincinnati All-America, scored 33 points to lead the Cincinnati Royals to a 117-102 victory over the Detroit Pistons in a National Basketball Association exhibition game Monday night. Detroit led 64-55 at halftime.

Robertson scored 15 points in the first half and 18 in the second.

Ron Johnson, former University of Minnesota star, was high for Detroit with 12 points.

McLaughlin Runs Wild . . .

If there was a "player of the week award," it would go hands down to Ron McLaughlin, Beaver Local's fine halfback.

The youngster scored five touchdowns in Beaver Local's 36-8 win over Stanton Local Saturday. This is the first such scoring feat since Jim Lindner, now regular center for Ohio State, scored five touchdowns and three extra points for East Palestine in 1956.

That year Lindner wound up as the district's leading scorer. And at this moment McLaughlin is the top pointmaker around the area.

In only three games, McLaughlin has scored 50 points, coming on 8 touchdowns and two extra points. His nearest competitor is Ron Janovec of Salem, who has tallied 40 markers, and Fairfield-Waterford's Larry Webber with 38.

AN ODDITY of the 1960 football season in Ohio occurred at Columbiana, where the lights went out Friday night.

Poland, the visiting team, held a 20-0 lead when all went black.

The teams will complete the game on Monday Oct. 3. It will resume at the start of the second half.

EAST LIVERPOOL'S Kenny Cunningham was thrown three touchdowns passes and scored two TDs himself.

The value of tackle Skip Hall to the Potters was demonstrated Friday night. With Skip out of there, the Girard backs ripped through the Potter line over the spot where Hall normally plays.

We feel that official John Russ could have warned both Hall and the Girard tackle before ejecting them from the game.

Saturday Afternoon Heroes . . .

THREE EAST Liverpool gridders did quite well for themselves on the college gridiron Saturday.

At Lafayette, Ind., Bernie Allen, who did not start by the way, was Coach Jack Mollenkopf's ace in the hole when he fired for a touchdown pass and conversion pass to tie UCLA, 27-27.

The socre was 27-19 with UCLA leading when Allen tossed a 10-yard pass to John Greiner to move to the UCLA 28-yard line. On the next play Allen hR Harris in the end zone for the TD.

ALLEN POTTS MUSURACA McLAUGHLIN

After Purdue called time out to talk over the play for the two points, Allen hit Greiner in the left corner of the end zone for the two-point conversion.

While Allen was playing the hero role at Lafayette, another former Potter quarterback — Jim Potts— fired the winning touchdown pass in the third quarter to give Bowling Green a 14-7 win over Marshall in a Mid-American Conference battle.

Saturday's performance also put Potts among the passing leaders in the conference. Besides his touchdown pass Jim showed 8 completions in 12 attempts for 109 yards.

He now ranks third in the passing department according to statistics released by the Mid-American Conference.

Nick was the top ground gainer, picking up 115 yards. His touchdowns came on a 24-yard run and on a 1-yard plunge.

'Female Touch' Helps . . .

IT WAS gratifying to learn of the recent organization of the Potters Ladies Booster Club which held its second meeting Monday night in the YMCA.

The first project designated by the football mothers will be to provide a lunch for the Potter squad on Thursday nights after practice and on Friday nights after regular games.

By providing refreshments after the Thursday night practice sessions, the women have eliminated a problem of the Potter players having to rush home for dinner and hurry to a movie that night.

We feel certain that the team also will appreciate refreshments after action on Friday nights.

Serving as temporary officers are Mrs. Alma Hall, chairman, Mrs. Beryl Couch, secretary, and Mrs. Mary Griffith, treasurer. New officers will be elected after the club is completely organized.

We wish to extend our sincerest best wishes for the success of the Potters Ladies Booster Club in all its endeavors of helping to promote athletics in the city. The "female touch" in all probability will greatly add to the morale of East Liverpool athletes.

The club will hold its next meeting Monday night at Patterson Field and see movies of the East Liverpool-[illegible] game scheduled Friday night.

This 'N That In Football . . .

OVER AT Thiel College in Greenville, Pa., East Palestine's Willis Woods is slated for a starting berth with the Tomcats.

JOHN KARAFFA, an insurance executive in Indianapolis and former East Liverpool basketball coach, sat in on the Purdue-UCLA game Saturday to see Bernie Allen in action. John was Bernie's high school basketball coach.

—:—

AFL Dismisses Anti-Trust Suit

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) —Commissioner Joe Foss of the American Football League said Monday night that dismissal of the league's anti-trust suit against members of the western division of the National Football League would have little effect on the case.

A federal district judge Monday dismissed the American Football League's $10 million suit against six western teams in the NFL.

Judge Alexander Holtzoff ruled in Washington that the suit had been properly filed against six teams in the eastern division of the NFL and Baltimore in the western division.

He ruled that New York, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, and St. Louis could be sued because their appearances in Washington are regular.

The AFL charges a conspiracy by the older NFL to monopolize football, including attempts to monopolize players and franchise and television rights.

Foss said "the whole league is involved regardless of whether part of the clubs are not actually being sued."

Flags Clinched But Scramble Continues

Yanks Extend String To 10 Straight

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

While the Pirates, still aglow after winning their first National League pennant in 33 years, were idle Monday, the Yanks, American League champs for the 10th time in a dozen years under Manager Casey Stengel, kept humming with a 4-2 victory at Washington in 10 innings.

It was the 10th straight success for the Yankees, the longest of the year in the majors and the champs' best string since 1958, when they also won 10 in a row.

The races for a chunk of World Series cash, split among the first-division clubs in each league, centered around Milwaukee-St. Louis and Los Angeles-San Francisco in the NL; and the Chicago-Baltimore and Cleveland-Washington in the AL.

Chicago's White Sox, battling to keep intact manager Al Lopez' record of never having finished lower than second, pulled into a second-place tie with idle Baltimore by beating Detroit 6-3. Cleveland lost 6-1 at Kansas City, but retained a 1½-game edge over Washington for fourth place.

Milwaukee and St. Louis were idle, leaving the Braves a half-game in front of the Cards. San Francisco moved within 2½ games of fourth-place Los Angeles by beating the Dodgers 6-2 in the only NL game scheduled.

The Yankees, keeping the remaining races "honest", started most of their regulars at Washington, but finished by using 20 players. They had to bounce back with two runs in the 10th inning for the majors' longest streak since Kansas City won 11 in a row last season.

A pinch single by Hector Lopez broke up a 2-2 tie, after a double by Bob Cerv and a walk. Dale Long, who homered in the second inning, capped the rally with a single off loser Pedro Ramos (11-17). Duke Maas (3-1) was the winner in relief of rookie Bill Stafford, who gave up Harmon Killebrew's 31st home run, a tying, two-run shot in the seventh.

Minnie Minoso was 3-for-3, belted his 20th home run and drove in two runs along with Luis Aparicio as the White Sox beat Bill Fischer (8-8). Frank Baumann was the winner for a 13-6 record.

Southpaw Bud Daley (16-15) beat Cleveland with a four-hitter —his first victory over the Indians this season—while the A's backed him with 14 hits, one a homer by Pete Daley. Dick Stigman (5-11) was the loser.

The Giants, shut out on three hits for seven innings, scored all their runs in the eighth, three on Don Blasingame's triple. That beat Don Drysdale (14-14), who had won seven in a row at the Coliseum. Mike McCormick (14-12) was the winner.

CHAMPS GET TROPHY, Manager John Andrason of Cox-Merchants accepts a trophy donated by Quaker Oats Co. from Clair Coleman in recognition of his team winning the 1960 City Baseball League crown. Coleman, an infielder, was known as "Mr. Speed" whe he starred in the league for 20 years in the 1920's and '30's. Looking on are E. W. VanFossan of Pittsburgh (left), district representative of Quaker Oats Co., and Bob Gessford of Cox-Merchants (right), who won the league batting championship with a .432 average. Gessford, injured near the close of the season, received a Louisville Slugger batting certificate. The 47-year-old Andrason guided the team to a 15-5 league record and 24-9 overall. Pitcher Dick Chamberlain was 8-0 for the league, and 9-1 for the season.

Clash In Big One Saturday

Kansas Trio May Spell Trouble For Orangemen

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Big Eight title, national ranking and other notions of football grandeur have been bouncing through the minds of the Kansas Jayhawks this year. They might have some basis for this rarely practiced optimism, even with second-ranked Syracuse coming to town Saturday.

The Jayhawk fans give three reasons: John Hadl, whose backfield versatility enables him to operate between quarterback and halfback; Curtis McClinton, a halfback, and his sophomore running mate, Bert Coan. You can't fault them so far, and the last to disagree is Syracuse Coach Ben Schwartzwalder.

The trio, in two games, has scored 6 of Kansas' 8 touchdowns as the Jays rolled over a stunned Texas Christian team 21-7 and easily defeated Kansas State 41-0.

So far they seem to have borne out Coach Jack Mitchell's preseason evaluation of the team being "10 times better than last year." It finished in '59 with a 5-5 record, including a 7-6 loss to Oklahoma and a 35-21 loss to Syracuse.

However Mitchell is being his usual cagey self while his team preps for the game.

"We're better than last year, but how much better we don't know," he said, referring to the chances of his trio of swifties to get through the rugged Syracuse line. "Syracuse has the best defense in college football. We haven't played any real great football teams yet."

Syracuse allowed Boston University only two yards rushing and 25 passing in a 35-7 victory last Saturday.

Hadl did better than that himself against TCU. He scored on runs of 52 and 16 yards. Coan rallied twice against K-State on 3 yard bursts and once against TCU from the 1-yard line. McClinton also scored from a yard out against Kansas State, and ground out 91 yards in 16 carries. Coan picked up 84 yards in 10 trips.

If this trio can't turn the trick in the nationally televised game then Syracuse has overcome one of the biggest obstacles toward another undefeated season and fifth-ranked Kansas will have to put all its eggs in the basket marked "Big Eight title."

Paret-Thompson Bout Rescheduled Oct. 29

NEW YORK (AP)—Argentina's Federico Thompson will have to wait until Oct. 29 at least to get his shot at the welterweight boxing championship held by Cuba's Benny Paret.

The bout, originally scheduled for Madison Square Garden Oct. 15, has been tentatively rescheduled for Oct. 29 because of the champion's infected tonsils.

Big O Bags 33 Points As Royals Beat Pistons

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Oscar Robertson, former University of Cincinnati All-America, scored 33 points to lead the Cincinnati Royals to a 117-102 victory over the Detroit Pistons in a National Basketball Association exhibition game Monday night. Detroit led 64-55 at halftime.

Robertson scored 15 points in the first half and 18 in the second.

Ron Johnson, former University of Minnesota star, was high for Detroit with 12 points.

Alliance, Massillon In Showdown Battle Friday Night

Rivals Lead Poll; Salem, EL Ranked

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—First of the big "lose and get out" games pops up this week in Ohio's high school football fight.

This one sends top-ranked 1959 champion Massillon against second - ranked 1958 champion Alliance. It's scheduled Friday night at Mount Union Stadium in Alliance, and 10,000 will see it.

But the victor still has a long way to go to nail down any title claims, for many of the top squads in this week's Associated Press poll have dates later on.

After Friday's 1-2 scrap, Massillon has games, among others, with Cincinnati Roger Bacon (No. 6), Springfield (No. 3) and Canton McKinley (No. 4). Alliance must meet Cincinnati Elder (No. 10), Springfield, Canton McKinley and Niles (No. 7). Sandusky (No. 5) isn't in the top-bracket free-for-all.

The Massillons clung to their lead in the poll as 29 sports writers showered votes on them. The Tigers picked up 17 first place nods and 273 of a possible 290 poll points, for a 98-point lead over Alliance and 111 over Springfield.

Kettering Fairmont, nosed out by Dayton Chaminade, and Toledo St. Francis fell from the elite list this week, with Niles and Cincinnati Elder moving in. Lima Senior was tied 6-6 by Marion Harding and dropped only from seventh to eighth.

From here and there: Dave Patterson, end candidate at Frankfort in Ross County, quit the squad. He sought reinstatement, and Bobcat coach Ralph Bostic told him he'd have to run 100 laps (25 miles) around the school's track, to earn the comeback privilege. Dave ran 25 laps a day for four days, reported next day for practice, and promptly broke his collarbone. He's out for the season.

Circleville ended Columbus Rosary's 23-game unbeaten streak 7-0. Zanesville fullback Bill Portis scored on runs of 53, 21 and 38 yards to defeat Columbus East 28-16.

Students at New Miami, a new school near Hamilton, didn't start to class until Monday, but the football team—under Coach Rudy Oaklets, formerly of Seven Mile—has three grid victories tucked away. Freddie Nori, who is being hunted by baseball scouts, is a pretty fair football player, too, for Middletown Fenwick. He's scored 10 of his team's 11 touchdowns in three games, the shortest on a 27-yard jaunt.

Indian Lake High of Lakeview has only 18 players—but they've trounced three opponents by 197 to 14. Steubenville coach Ray Hoyman used his 145-pound son, Bill, at quarterback for the first time Friday, and the kid promptly tossed a touchdown pass. It was futile, however, as Weirton, W.Va. triumphed 13-6.

Coach Fremo Ross of Cadiz rates 180-pound 6-3 senior quarterback Bill Lee as one of the state's best. He's scored five touchdowns and passed for two in three straight wins.

Salem's 200-pound fullback, Ron Hanovec, scored three touchdowns for the second straight week as the Quakers ripped Ravenna 43-0 for three in a row. Springfield's 46-0 romp over Columbus North was the 15th straight for the Wildcats.

The Lakewood - Lorain series, started back in 1908, came to an end with a 22-22 deadlock. Fred Leick, Lakewood halfback, scored twice and ran for 287 yards, while Lorain's Dale Warfield picked up 112 yards and two touchdowns. New London halted Lorain Clearview's 18-game winning streak, 20-14.

Ron McLaughlin of Beaver Local scored five touchdowns and a conversion in the 38-8 win over Stanton Local. And Kenny Cunningham, East Liverpool signal caller, had a hand in all the points as the Potters tripped Girard 22-6. He passed for two touchdowns and two conversions, and scored the other TD himself.

Unbeaten Mount Vernon marched 81 yards in the last seven minutes to hand Mansfield Madison its first setback, 14-8. Dick Nethers, a 190-pound halfback, has scored seven touchdowns for Mount Vernon, winner of three in a row. Phil Spencer, 150-pound Mount Vernon St. Vincent halfback, scored on a 76-yard pass play, then ran 93 yards minus a shoe for another score—but St. Vincent lost 38-20 to Newark Catholic.

Massillon and Alliance must have been looking forward to Friday's classic in their weekend games. Alliance got by Cuyahoga Falls by 18-13, and Massillon used an 82-yard pass intereception and a 43-yard punt return, both for touchdowns by safetyman Bob Baker, in the 28-0 win over Columbus Central.

The Columbiana-Poland game, halted by a power failure at halftime with Poland leading 20-0 will be resumed at 6 p.m. Saturday. Youngstown North is getting tired of being pushed around—after losing 20 straight games. So, Friday night, 8-0 back of Youngstown Chaney with three minutes to go, the Bulldogs marched 52 yards for a touchdown and Art Sherman hit Jerry DiSalvo with a two-point conversion pass to earn an 8-8 tie.

Jerry Fought, 230-pound senior fullback for Fremont Ross, carried the ball only twice—but both were good for touchdowns in the 43-21 win over Toledo Waite. Middletown defeated Hamilton Taft 66-0, and 11 of Tiger Ellison's boys joined in the scoring.

Marietta had to come from behind Bellaire for its 15th straight. Down 6-0, quarterback Larry Metts got together with end John Hadley for a 77-yard scoring pass play. Then second - string quarterback Jerry Curtis faked a placekick conversion, passed to Metts for a two-pointer and an 8-6 conquest.

Here's How Writers Ranked Ohio's Teams

Matthews Seeks 2nd Over Panama Champ

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Third-ranked lightweight challenger Len Matthews, headlining an attractive card which ushers in the indoor boxing season at the Arena, hopes to make it two in a row over Panama champion Jorge Quintero tonight in a return 10-round bout.

In the co-featured 10-rounder veteran southpaw Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., the No. 7 ranked lightweight challenger, meets Sid (Sweetpea) Adams, like Matthews, a Philadelphian.

Herman Taylor, who is promoting the card, has said he will attempt to bring the two winners together in a later bout.

Matthews, 21, and Lane, 28, are rated slight favorites on the basis of experience and previous bouts.

Ex-Indian Daley Stops Tribe In 6-1 Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Cleveland Indians failed to tighten their hold on fourth place in the American League Monday night, losing to the Kansas City Athletics.

The Tribe was held to four hits by Bud Daley, a former Indian, who won his 16th game against 15 defeats. Daley, also a 16-game winner last season, can set a Kansas City record by winning one more.

Rookie southpaw Dick Stigman (5-11) was the loser. He lasted five innings, allowing three runs on seven hits and two walks.

The 'A's' got seven more hits off Don Newcombe and Carl Mathias. Jerry Lumpe led the attack with two singles and a double. Catcher Pete Daley hit a home run and a single.

Stigman was tagged for two more runs in the home half of the fifth. Lumpe doubled and scored on a single by rookie Leo Posada, who took second on a throw to the plate. A double by Dick Williams scored Posada.

Buckeye Scout Tabs Trojans As Mystery Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twice-beaten Southern California, Saturday's football opponent for Ohio State, is a mystery team, says a Buckey escout.

Esco Sarkkinen, the assistant Ohio State grid coach who has watched Southern Cal lose to Oregon State 14-0 and Texas Christian 7-6, had this report:

"This is practically the same team which won its first eight games a year ago, and the potential is still there. The big difference is that the Trojans have fumbled five times in each game, losing the ball seven times, and have had two passes intercepted."

But Sarkkinen told newsmen at a press luncheon Monday that the West Coast club may solve its mysterious ineffectiveness. The Trojans have done considerable experimenting with offensive formations and may be "shaken down" by the time they come here Saturday, he warned.

Coach Woody Hayes, pleased with the Bucks' 24-0 conquest of Southern Methodist last Saturday, commented that "Southern California is not as good as it was at this time last year, and we are better than in 1959. I look for a great game."

Detroit Gives Davis Tryout

"I was a halfback then . . . just average . . . Track was the big thing with me," Davis said.

"I wonder whether I can still stand up in football shoes," he said before the workout. His speed turned out to be impressive, but observers said he looked awkward as a pass receiver and that's about the only place the Lions can use him.

Filly Wins Class C Pace At Scioto Downs

Casey Might Start Stafford In Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — Casey Stengel allows as how he wouldn't be averse to starting young Bill Stafford against Pittsburgh in the World Series if the situation presents itself.

The New York Yankees' manager tossed off that comment as he relaxed in his manager's cubical after Monday night's 10-inning 4-2 victory over Washington — a victory in which Stafford played a big role.

"This young feller has done a fine job for me, winning three games since we called him up from Richmond a month ago," said Stengel. "And he has pitched well in two other games against Washington without being credited with victories. He's a cool customer."

Stafford Monday night had the Senators shut out on two hits until the seventh inning when Harmon Killebrew hit his 31st home run with one on to boost the Senators into a 2-2 tie.

The rookie then proceeded to get the Senators out through the eighth before being lifted for a pinch hitter. The seldom-used Duke Maas worked the last two innings and got credit for the victory.

Sets Rushing Pace In AFL

Smith has romped for 256 yards and leads for the third straight week.

Cannon, the celebrated Louisiana State All-America, has moved into second place with 163 yards.

In scoring, too, Houston still has the leader—George Blanda, the old pro quarterback, who has made 40 points, 22 of them with placement kicks.

Al Carmichael of Denver tops in kickoff returns with 249 yards and Gene Mingo of Denver leads at running back punts although he only has one to his credit—a 76-yarder in the opening game. Cannon has moved into a sharp challenging position with three returns for 72 yards.

Al Dorow of New York took over the punting lead. He has a 44-yard average on six kicks.

Sugar Ray Says He Won't Fight Archie

"I had everything all set up for a match with Moore two years ago," Robinson said Monday at his training camp here. "Instead, he turned around and accepted an offer to fight Yvon Duerelle for $150,000.

Alliance, Massillon In Showdown Battle Friday Night

Rivals Lead Poll; Salem, EL Ranked

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—First of the big "lose and get out" games pops up this week in Ohio's high school football fight.

This one sends top-ranked 1959 champion Massillon against second - ranked 1958 champion Alliance. It's scheduled Friday night at Mount Union Stadium in Alliance, and 10,000 will see it.

But the victor still has a long way to go to nail down any title claims, for many of the top squads in this week's Associated Press poll have dates later on.

After Friday's 1-2 scrap, Massillon has games, among others, with Cincinnati Roger Bacon (No. 6), Springfield (No. 3) and Canton McKinley (No. 4). Alliance must meet Cincinnati Elder (No. 10), Springfield, Canton McKinley and Niles (No. 7). Sandusky (No. 5) isn't in the top-bracket free-for-all.

The Massillons clung to their lead in the poll as 29 sports writers showered votes on them. The Tigers picked up 17 first place nods and 273 of a possible 290 poll points, for a 98-point lead over Alliance and 111 over Springfield.

Kettering Fairmont, nosed out by Dayton Chaminade, and Toledo St. Francis fell from the elite list this week, with Niles and Cincinnati Elder moving in. Lima Senior was tied 6-6 by Marion Harding and dropped only from seventh to eighth.

From here and there: Dave Patterson, end candidate at Frankfort in Ross County, quit the squad. He sought reinstatement, and Bobcat coach Ralph Bostic told him he'd have to run 100 laps (25 miles) around the school's track, to earn the comeback privilege. Dave ran 25 laps a day for four days, reported next day for practice, and promptly broke his collarbone. He's out for the season.

Circleville ended Columbus Rosary's 23-game unbeaten streak 7-0. Zanesville fullback Bill Portis scored on runs of 53, 21 and 28 yards to defeat Columbus East 20-16.

Students at New Miami, a new school near Hamilton, didn't start to class until Monday, but the football team—under Coach Rudy Oaklets, formerly of Seven Mile—has three grid victories tucked away. Freddie Neri, who is being hunted by baseball scouts, is a pretty fair football player, too, for Middletown Fenwick. He's scored 10 of his team's 11 touchdowns in three games, the shortest on a 27-yard jaunt.

Indian Lake High of Lakeview has only 18 players—but they've trounced three opponents by 197 to 14. Steubenville coach Ray Hoyman used his 145-pound son, Bill, at quarterback for the first time Friday, and the kid promptly tossed a touchdown pass. It was futile, however, as Weirton, W.Va. triumphed 13-6.

Coach Fremo Ross of Cadiz rates 180-pound 6-3 senior quarterback Bill Lee as one of the state's best. He's scored five touchdowns and passed for two in three straight wins.

Salem's 200-pound fullback, Ron Hanovec, scored three touchdowns for the second straight week as the Quakers ripped Ravenna 43-0 for three in a row. Springfield's 66-0 romp over Columbus North was the 15th straight for the Wildcats.

The Lakewood - Lorain series, started back in 1908, came to an end with a 22-22 deadlock. Fred Leick, Lakewood halfback, scored twice and ran for 287 yards, while Lorain's Dale Warfield picked up 112 yards and two touchdowns. New London halted Lorain Clearview's 18-game winning streak, 20-14.

Ron McLaughlin of Beaver Local scored five touchdowns and a conversion in the 38-8 win over Stanton Local. And Kenny Cunningham, East Liverpool signal caller, had a hand in all the points as the Potters tripped Girard 22-6. He passed for two touchdowns and two conversions, and scored the other TD himself.

Unbeaten Mount Vernon marched 81 yards in the last seven minutes to hand Mansfield Madison its first setback, 14-8. Dick Nethers, a 190-pound halfback, has scored seven touchdowns for Mount Vernon, winner of three in a row. Phil Spencer, 150-pound Mount Vernon St. Vincent halfback, scored on a 76-yard pass play, then ran 93 yards minus a shoe for another score—but St. Vincent lost 38-20 to Newark Catholic.

Massillon and Alliance must have been looking forward to Friday's classic in their weekend games. Alliance got by Cuyahoga Falls by 18-13, and Massillon used an 82-yard pass intereception and a 43-yard punt return, both for touchdowns by safetyman Bob Baker, in the 28-0 win over Columbus Central.

The Columbiana-Poland game, halted by a power failure at halftime with Poland leading 20-0 will be resumed at 6 p.m. Saturday. Youngstown North is getting tired of being pushed around—after losing 20 straight games. So, Friday night, 8-0 back of Youngstown Chaney with three minutes to go, the Bulldogs marched 52 yards for a touchdown and Art Sherman hit Jerry DiSalvo with a two-point conversion pass to earn an 8-8 tie.

Jerry Fought, 230-pound senior fullback for Fremont Ross, carried the ball only twice—but both were good for touchdowns in the 43-21 win over Toledo Waite. Middletown defeated Hamilton Taft 66-0, and 11 of Tiger Ellison's boys joined in the scoring.

Marietta had to come from behind Bellaire for its 15th straight. Down 6-0, quarterback Larry Metts got together with end John Hadley for a 77-yard scoring pass play. Then second - string quarterback Jerry Curtis faked a placekick conversion, passed to Metts for a two-pointer and an 8-6 conquest.

Here's How Writers Ranked Ohio's Teams

Matthews Seeks 2nd Over Panama Champ

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Third-ranked lightweight challenger Len Matthews, headlining an attractive card which ushers in the indoor boxing season at the Arena, hopes to make it two in a row over Panama champion Jorge Quintero tonight in a return 10-round bout.

In the co-featured 10-rounder veteran southpaw Kenny Lane of Muskegon, Mich., the No. 7 ranked lightweight challenger, meets Sid (Sweetpea) Adams, like Matthews, a Philadelphian.

Herman Taylor, who is promoting the card, has said he will attempt to bring the two winners together in a later bout.

Matthews, 21, and Lane, 28, are rated slight favorites on the basis of experience and previous bouts.

In the early days of Bermuda, the offense of Sabbath - breaking drew a penalty of two days in prison and a fine of 10 pounds of tobacco.

Ex-Indian Daley Stops Tribe In 6-1 Victory

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Cleveland Indians failed to tighten their hold on fourth place in the American League Monday night, losing to the Kansas City Athletics.

The Tribe was held to four hits by Bud Daley, a former Indian, who won his 16th game against 15 defeats. Daley, also a 16-game winner last season, can set a Kansas City record by winning one more.

Rookie southpaw Dick Stigman (5-11) was the loser. He lasted five innings, allowing three runs on seven hits and two walks.

The 'A's' got seven more hits off Don Newcombe and Carl Mathias. Jerry Lumpe led the attack with two singles and a double. Catcher Pete Daley hit a home run and a single.

Hank Bauer singled Lumpe home from second to give the Athletics a 1-0 lead in the first inning. The Indians tied the score in the fifth.

Stigman was tagged for two more runs in the home half of the fifth. Lumpe doubled and scored on a single by rookie Leo Posada, who took second on a throw to the plate. A double by Dick Williams scored Posada.

Lumpe drove in two runs with a single off Newcombe in the sixth and Daley's homer off Mathias in the eighth concluded the scoring.

The Indians remained a game and a half ahead of the fifth-place Washington Senators who also lost.

Barry Latman (7-6) will open for the Indians in the second game of the series tonight, opposed by Ray Herbert (12-15).

Buckeye Scout Tabs Trojans As Mystery Team

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twice-beaten Southern California, Saturday's football opponent for Ohio State, is a mystery team, says a Buckey escout.

Esco Sarkkinen, the assistant Ohio State grid coach who has watched Southern Cal lose to Oregon State 14-0 and Texas Christian 7-6, had this report:

"This is practically the same team which won its first eight games a year ago, and the potential is still there. The big difference is that the Trojans have fumbled five times in each game, losing the ball seven times, and have had two passes intercepted."

But Sarkkinen told newsmen at a press luncheon Monday that the West Coast club may solve its mysterious ineffectiveness. The Trojans have done considerable experimenting with offensive formations and may be "shaken down" by the time they come here Saturday, he warned.

Coach Woody Hayes, pleased with the Bucks' 24-0 conquest of Southern Methodist last Saturday, commented that "Southern California is not as good as it was at this time last year, and we are better than in 1959. I look for a great game."

Detroit Gives Davis Tryout

Davis stands 6 feet and weights only 172. He hasn't played football since high school in Barberton, Ohio, in 1954.

"I was a halfback then . . . just average . . . Track was the big thing with me," Davis said.

Davis has no contract and is working with the Lions on a "what can we lose" basis.

"I wonder whether I can still stand up in football shoes," he said before the workout. His speed turned out to be impressive, but observers said he looked awkward as a pass receiver and that's about the only place the Lions can use him.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, the Lion co-captain and former Ohio State back, suggested Davis to the Lions.

Filly Wins Class C Pace At Scioto Downs

Casey Might Start Stafford In Series

WASHINGTON (AP) — Casey Stengel allows as how he wouldn't be averse to starting young Bill Stafford against Pittsburgh in the World Series if the situation presents itself.

The New York Yankees' manager tossed off that comment as he relaxed in his manager's cubical after Monday night's 10-inning 4-2 victory over Washington — a victory in which Stafford played a big role.

"This young feller has done a fine job for me, winning three games since we called him up from Richmond a month ago," said Stengel. "And he has pitched well in two other games against Washington without being credited with victories. He's a cool customer."

Stafford Monday night had the Senators shut out on two hits until the seventh inning when Harmon Killebrew hit his 31st home run with one on to boost the Senators into a 2-2 tie.

The rookie then proceeded to get the Senators out through the eighth before being lifted for a pinch hitter. The seldom-used Duke Maas worked the last two innings and got credit for the victory.

Sets Rushing Pace In AFL

The Oilers lost their first game last weekend, 14-13 to Oakland, but it didn't knock Smith, the former Ripon star, out of first place in rushing.

Smith has romped for 256 yards and leads for the third straight week.

Cannon, the celebrated Louisiana State All-America, has moved into second place with 163 yards.

In scoring, too, Houston still has the leader—George Blanda, the old pro quarterback, who has made 40 points, 22 of them with placement kicks.

Al Carmichael of Denver tops in kickoff returns with 249 yards and Gene Mingo of Denver leads at running back punts although he only has one to his credit—a 76-yarder in the opening game. Cannon has moved into a sharp challenging position with three returns for 72 yards.

Al Dorow of New York took over the punting lead. He has a 44-yard average on six kicks.

Sugar Ray Says He Won't Fight Archie

"I had everything all set up for a match with Moore two years ago," Robinson said Monday at his training camp here. "Instead, he turned around and accepted an offer to fight Yvon Duerelle for $150,000.

NBC Sews Up Huntley-Brinkley

Marie Torre

There was a time when networks would "steal" performers from one another. Now that television has discovered "News — Public Affairs," the newsmen of TV have become the leading quarry of networks of prey, a phenomenon that finds NBC seeking extended relations with Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Clearly, it'll be "Good night, Chet!" "Good night, David!" for a long, long time!

For five years, at least, and maybe 10, depending on the outcome of current negotiations which began when NBC became abruptly aware that some CBS officials had more than a spectator's interest in the news twins—far and away the viewers' choice during the political conventions.

UNDER THEIR present contracts, Huntley and Brinkley are bound to NBC for the next three or four years, but now, what with TV news commanding wide attention, this isn't enough for NBC.

The network is tearing up their old contracts and replacing them with new pacts which will increase the news team's pay and assure the network of a longer association.

All of which would indicate that the newsmen of TV are now being granted the same treatment accorded the Bob Hopes and the Dinah Shores.

IT CANNOT BE SAID, however, that Huntley and Brinkley are comfortable in the roles of celebrities.

"Sometimes," says Huntley, "I stop and ask myself, 'What happened?' People walk up to me on the street and ask for autographs. Package producers call with offers to appear on some darn fool game panel show or other. Why I've even had offers to appear—yes, act —in two motion pictures! "

"Sure, offers to endorse products and appear on non news shows come in all the time," he said. "That sort of thing is all right for singers and acrobats, not newsmen. I don't think reporters should act like celebrities.

"Maybe I can't do anything to stop people from treating me like a celebrity," Brinkley added, "but I'm certainly not going to contribute to it."

Now in the planning stage at the network is a series of six one-hour public affairs shows to be presented under the title, "The World of Huntley-Brinkley."

Each will do three programs revolving around his personal observations of people, places and things —a country, for example, or the story of a river, or the uninhabitability and deterioration of the large American cities.

"Each of us," said Huntley, "will be permitted to cover subjects that intrigue us. I'm terribly excited about it."

So is Brinkley, though he was at loss to give further details on the project. As he explained from his NBC quarters in Washington, "cooped up in this office at the end of the line, away from the meetings and the decision-makers in New York, I'm really a poor news source."

Danny Kaye has engaged his first TV guest — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong — for "An Hour With Danny Kaye" on Oct. 30. . . .

Sunday's "Maverick" will be practically a promotion piece for ABC shows In the cast will be Clint Walker of "Cheyenne," Ty Hardin of "Bronco," Will Hitchins of "Sugarfoot," John Russell and Peter Brown of "Lawman" and Edd (Kookie) Byrnes of "77 Sunset Strip." What — no Lawrence Welk?. . . .

Marlene Dietrich doesn't have time for TV but she's alerted impresario S. Hurok that she will have the time for a Moscow booking next year. La Dietrich, it's said, wants to become the first American variety performer to work behind the Iron Curtain.

Kennedy Returns To Ohio Today On Vote-Bid Tour

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy returned to Ohio today for a whirlwind tour of the vote - rich northeastern section in his bid for the Buckeye State's 25 electoral votes.

He arrived at the Lost Nation Airport at Willoughby from Chicago shortly after 2 a.m. and registered at the Deluxe Motel on U.S. 20 near here.

The Democratic presidential nominee started his day with breakfast and a speech at a restaurant near here. Six thousand persons were expected to be outside to hear the first presidential candidate to campaign in Lake County in 75 years. The last was James A. Garfield, who had an estate in Mentor.

Following that, Kennedy and a motorcade wound along U.S. 20, passing through these Cuyahoga County cities: Euclid, East Cleveland, Cleveland, Lakewood, Rocky River and Bay Village. Then he went into Lorain County, passing through Avon Lake and Sheffield Lake on the way to the Lorain stadium to make a speech. He was to travel through Elyria en route to Mansfield.

There would be a brief stop at Cleveland's Public Square at noon —if a crowd had assembled.

Other high points on Kennedy's tour included speeches at Mansfield Public Square at 2:40 p.m. (EST), at the Akron Armory at 6:50 p.m. (EDT), and at the Canton Municipal Auditorium at 8:15 p.m. (EDT).

Kennedy will leave Ohio at 9:15 p.m., flying to Erie, Pa.

The fast-moving motorcade venture into Ohio is Kennedy's second in three days. He spoke at a giant Democratic Party picnic at Euclid Beach Park Sunday where 118,000 turned out. Many thousands more watched the New Englander on his motor trip to and from the park on the shore of Lake Erie.

Eating as if there were no tomorrow, Kennedy on the Chicago-to - Willoughby flight pronounced himself satisfied with his first television debate Monday night with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"I think it was very useful," the Democratic candidate for president said aboard his plane, "Caroline." "I hope it clarified some of the issues on which we and our two parties differ."

Did he think the debates might prove decisive?

"They could be very important," Kennedy said, now working on a hot dog. He said it was this type of debating which proved decisive in his election to the Senate in 1952 over Henry Cabot Lodge.

The Massachusetts senator made it clear he was satisfied with the format selected for the debate and did not plan to seek any changes in the three remaining TV encounters.

How did Kennedy feel he did against Nixon Monday night?

"Well, I guess we will just have to wait and see," he said, now deep into the main course—beef tenderloin with mushrooms and onions, wild rice and a salad of lettuce and tomatoes.

The senator's midnight meal in the air also included two glasses of milk and ended with tomato soup with cream.

Although it was 2:30 a.m. when the senator touched down in Ohio, he was greated by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio and several hundred local admirers.

Blast Kills Worker

NBC Sews Up Huntley-Brinkley

There was a time when networks would "steal" performers from one another. Now that television has discovered "News — Public Affairs," the newsmen of TV have become the leading quarry of networks of prey, a phenomenon that finds NBC seeking extended relations with Chet Huntley and David Brinkley. Clearly, it'll be "Good night, Chet!" "Good night, David!" for a long, long time!

Marie Torre

For five years, at least, and maybe 10, depending on the outcome of current negotiations which began when NBC became abruptly aware that some CBS officials had more than a spectator's interest in the news twins—far and away the viewers' choice during the political conventions.

UNDER THEIR present contracts, Huntley and Brinkley are bound to NBC for the next three or four years, but now, what with TV news commanding wide attention, this isn't enough for NBC.

The network is tearing up their old contracts and replacing them with new pacts which will increase the news team's pay and assure the network of a longer association.

All of which would indicate that the newsmen of TV are now being granted the same treatment accorded the Bob Hopes and the Dinah Shores.

IT CANNOT BE SAID, however, that Huntley and Brinkley are comfortable in the roles of celebrities.

"Sometimes," says Huntley, "I stop and ask myself, 'What happened?' People walk up to me on the street and ask for autographs. Package producers call with offers to appear on some dare fool game panel show or other. Why I've even had offers to appear—yes, act —in two motion pictures! "

"Sure, offers to endorse products and appear on non news shows come in all the time," he said. "That sort of thing is all right for singers and acrobats, not newsmen. I don't think reporters should act like celebrities.

"Maybe I can't do anything to stop people from treating me like a celebrity," Brinkley added, "but I'm certainly not going to contribute to it."

Now in the planning stage at the network is a series of six one-hour public affairs shows to be presented under the title, "The World of Huntley-Brinkley."

Each will do three programs revolving around his personal observations of people, places and things —a country, for example, or the story of a river, or the uninhabitability and deterioration of the large American cities.

"Each of us," said Huntley, "will be permitted to cover subjects that intrigue us. I'm terribly excited about it."

So is Brinkley, though he was at loss to give further details on the project. As he explained from his NBC quarters in Washington, "cooped up in this office at the end of the line, away from the meetings and the decision-makers in New York, I'm really a poor news source."

Danny Kaye has engaged his first TV guest — Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong — for "An Hour With Danny Kaye" on Oct. 30. . . .

Sunday's "Maverick" will be practically a promotion piece for ABC shows In the cast will be Clint Walker of "Cheyenne," Ty Hardin of "Bronco," Will Hitchins of "Sugarfoot," John Russell and Peter Brown of "Lawman" and Edd (Kookie) Byrnes of "77 Sunset Strip." What — no Lawrence Welk?. . . .

Marlene Dietrich doesn't have time for TV but she's alerted impresario S. Hurok that she will have the time for a Moscow booking next year. La Dietrich, it's said, wants to become the first American variety performer to work behind the Iron Curtain.

To Appear At Akron, Canton

Kennedy Returns To Ohio Today On Vote-Bid Tour

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Sen. John F. Kennedy returned to Ohio today for a whirlwind tour of the vote - rich northeastern section in his bid for the Buckeye State's 25 electoral votes.

The Democratic presidential nominee started his day with breakfast and a speech at a restaurant near here. Six thousand persons were expected to be outside to hear the first presidential candidate to campaign in Lake County in 75 years. The last was James A. Garfield, who had an estate in Mentor.

Following that, Kennedy and a motorcade wound along U.S. 20, passing through these Cuyahoga County cities: Euclid, East Cleveland, Cleveland, Lakewood, Rocky River and Bay Village. Then he went into Lorain County, passing through Avon Lake and Sheffield Lake on the way to the Lorain stadium to make a speech. He was to travel through Elyria en route to Mansfield.

There would be a brief stop at Cleveland's Public Square at noon —if a crowd had assembled.

Other high points on Kennedy's tour included speeches at Mansfield Public Square at 2:40 p.m. (EST), at the Akron Armory at 6:50 p.m. (EDT), and at the Canton Municipal Auditorium at 9:15 p.m. (EDT).

Kennedy will leave Ohio at 9:15 p.m., flying to Erie, Pa.

The fast-moving motorcade venture into Ohio is Kennedy's second in three days. He spoke at a giant Democratic Party picnic at Euclid Beach Park Sunday where 114,000 turned out. Many thousands more watched the New Englander on his motor trip to and from the park on the shore of Lake Erie.

Eating as if there were no tomorrow, Kennedy on the Chicago-to - Willoughby flight pronounced himself satisfied with his first television debate Monday night with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

"I think it was very useful," the Democratic candidate for president said aboard his plane, "Caroline." "I hope it clarified some of the issues on which we and our two parties differ."

Did he think the debates might prove decisive?

"They could be very important," Kennedy said, now working on a hot dog. He said it was this type of debating which proved decisive in his election to the Senate in 1952 over Henry Cabot Lodge.

The Massachusetts senator made it clear he was satisfied with the format selected for the debate and did not plan to seek any changes in the three remaining TV encounters.

How did Kennedy feel he did against Nixon Monday night?

"Well, I guess we will just have to wait and see," he said, now deep into the main course—beef tenderloin with mushrooms and onions, wild rice and a salad of lettuce and tomatoes.

The senator's midnight meal in the air also included two glasses of milk and ended with tomato soup with cream.

Although it was 2:30 a.m. when the senator touched down in Ohio, he was greeted by Gov. Michael V. DiSalle of Ohio and several hundred local admirers.

Blast Kills Worker

Wellsville Kiwanis Will Sponsor Circus

Schools will be dismissed early Monday afternoon so the students can attend the matinee.

2 Receive Promotions With Weirton Steel

Two promotions in the sales department of the Weirton Steel Co. were announced today by R. S. Meighen, vice president of sales. The appointments are effective immediately.

S. L. McClurg has been named assistant to the manager of tin plate sales and W. S. Dorrance succeeds McClurg as manager of the tin mill products division order department.

Marion Man, 41, Killed As Car Hits Abutment

MARION, Ohio (AP) — A 41-year-old Marion man was killed when his car teft U.S. 30S about 12 miles west of here late Monday night.

Authorities said Elvie Gulley died of asphyxiation after his car hit an abutment, rolled over and caught fire.

Appeals Court Cuts Award

LISBON — A ruling from the 7th District Court of Appeals returned Monday in Common Pleas Court held a personal injury award of $12,000 was excessive and slashed it to $8,500.

The appeals court said, in the case of Glenna Daniels of Ironton against Warren J. Dickey of Meadows Lane, Pa., that if the plaintiff isn't willing to accept this amount within 20 days that a new jury trial be held.

Trial court awarded the plaintiff $12,000 Jan. 28 when the defendant failed to appear and a motion for a new trial was overruled March 4 and the defendant appealed. The case arose from a traffic accident in the county.

Kenny Watson of Warren received a second $12,000 judgment against the Buckeye Coal Co. of Lisbon in a car-truck accident and this was affirmed.

Watson sued for $50,000 for personal injuries and on Jan. 29, 1958, and was awarded a $16,400 verdict by a jury but the coal company was given a new trial and the jury returned a verdict of $12,000 March 16. This was appealed by the coal company.

The other case was that of Lois Partridge against James A. Pidgeon Jr., in a distribution of property and money involving businesses owned by the father, now deceased.

The Court of Appeals recommended the "excellent opinion" of the trial court of Feb. 13, 1959, covering the facts and the law and ruling it was a "correct result of the evidence submitted."

These were among several cases heard when the appeals court made its semi-annual visit to Columbiana County Sept. 13. Members of the court are Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren, Judge John L. Donahue of Youngstown and Judge William T. Allmon of Carrollton.

Curbstone Group Will Attend Game

The Curbstone Coaches Association of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 announced today it has obtained a block of tickets for the Wellsville-Chester football game Friday night and will sit in a group.

The Holy Mackerels cheering section will be led by William Powell. Dan Shepherd, Lou Shepherd and Eric Shepherd worked last week at Nicholson Stadium, painting the scoreboard and some fencing.

They plan to work again this week and any one interested in helping may contact Dan Shepherd.

Fifty-five attended a pig roast held Saturday night at the post home. Powell and Francis House were in charge. Members of the post auxiliary served the meal.

An oyster dinner will be held sometime in October.

Jail Terms Suspended For 2 In Theft Of Gas

LISBON — Paul E. Totten, 28, of Minerva and Oren Freeman, 18, of Carrollton R. D. 1 received suspended 90-day jail sentences Monday before County Judge James L. MacDonald for petty larceny in the theft of 5 gallons of gasoline from the William'a Saw Mill on County Rd. 703 north of Bayard.

They were arrested by Deputy James Gause on routine patrol early Sunday morning.

They were committed to the County Jail in lieu of costs amounting to $11.90 each.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent scum from forming over the paint in a partly-used can?

A. Pour a little turpentine over the paint, being careful to float it on the surface. When ready to paint again, simply stir the turpentine in as a thinner. To preserve paint indefinitely, seal the paint in your can with some melted paraffin, as you would a jar of jelly.

Q. How can I avoid buying shoes that are too tight?

A. It is better to buy shoes in the afternoon, as by that time the feet will have spread from being on them, and the shoes will always be comfortable.

Q. How can I keep fine laces from tearing when washing them?

A. Wash them in a bottle of soapsuds. If they are to be starched, use a solution of sugar and water. To whiten the laces, wash them in sour milk.

1,124 Revolt Fatalities

PARIS (AP) — Police Prefect Maurice Papon announced today that 1,124 persons have been killed and 1,354 wounded in Paris and its suburbs as a result of the Algerian rebellion since the revolt started nearly six years ago.

Red Sox Wait On Jensen's Decision About Comeback

Boston, opening its last two-game home stand against Baltimore today, may get its answer Wednesday. Jensen has called a press conference for noon at Fenway Park.

The California slugger who decided to quit baseball a year ago isn't hinting whether he will change his mind and come out of retirement or not. But his presence is stirring up plenty of controversy.

Manager Mike Higgins, who put in a long distance call to Jensen the day after he was reinstated as manager this summer, has a dinner engagement with Jensen which may settle a lot of things.

6 Back At Work After Exposure To Radiation

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Six radar technicians hospitalized after exposure to radiation from a high-energy tube are working again, according to a medical report.

The report added, however, that all have been assigned to jobs where there is no chance of their being exposed to further radiation.

The six were hospitalized from 16 days to 11 weeks.

A report by Dr. Joe W. Howland of the University of Rochester Medical School, released Monday, said the continuing effects of the radiation noted so far were extreme sensitivity to heat and cold and a recurring drowsiness.

Dr. Howland said one technician collapsed from heart prostration recently upon arriving in Phoenix, Ariz.

Three received from 300 to 2,000 roentgens of partial body radiation, the report said. A dose of 3,000 rotentgens of this radiation is considered lethal.

Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Council of the Village of Salineville, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 29th day of August, 1960, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said Village of Salineville at a General Election to be held in the Village of Salineville, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 8th day of November, 1960, the question levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the Village of Salineville for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for street lighting in said village.

Said tax being an additional tax of two (2) mills to run for five years at a rate not exceeding two (2) mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Twenty cents ($0.20) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for each of the tax years 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.

C. L. Stacey, Chairman
Frank R. O'Hanlon, Clerk

Dated August 29, 1960.

Appeals Court Cuts Award

LISBON — A ruling from the 7th District Court of Appeals returned Monday in Common Pleas Court held a personal injury award of $12,000 was excessive and slashed it to $8,500.

The appeals court said, in the case of Glenna Daniels of Ironton against Warren J. Dickey of Meadows Lane, Pa., that if the plaintiff isn't willing to accept this amount within 20 days that a new jury trial be held.

Trial court awarded the plaintiff $12,000 Jan. 28 when the defendant failed to appear and a motion for a new trial was overruled March 4 and the defendant appealed. The case arose from a traffic accident in the county.

The appeals court upheld two other county court rulings.

Kenny Watson of Warren received a second $12,000 judgment against the Buckeye Coal Co. of Lisbon in a car-truck accident and this was affirmed.

Watson sued for $50,000 for personal injuries and on Jan. 29, 1958, and was awarded a $16,400 verdict by a jury but the coal company was given a new trial and the jury returned a verdict of $12,000 March 16. This was appealed by the coal company.

The other case was that of Lois Partridge against James A. Pidgeon Jr., in a distribution of property and money involving businesses owned by the father, now deceased.

The Court of Appeals recommended the "excellent opinion" of the trial court of Feb. 13, 1959, covering the facts and the law and ruling it was a "correct result of the evidence submitted."

These were among several cases heard when the appeals court made its semi-annual visit to Columbiana County Sept. 13. Members of the court are Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren, Judge John L. Donahue of Youngstown and Judge William T. Allmon of Carrollton.

Curbstone Group Will Attend Game

The Curbstone Coaches Association of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 announced today it has obtained a block of tickets for the Wellsville-Chester football game Friday night and will sit in a group.

The Holy Mackerels cheering section will be led by William Powell, Dan Shepherd, Lou Shepherd and Eric Shepherd worked last week at Nicholson Stadium, painting the scoreboard and some fencing.

They plan to work again this week and any one interested in helping may contact Dan Shepherd.

Fifty-five attended a pig roast held Saturday night at the post home. Powell and Francis House were in charge. Members of the post auxiliary served the meal.

An oyster dinner will be held sometime in October.

Jail Terms Suspended For 2 In Theft Of Gas

LISBON — Paul E. Totten, 28, of Minerva and Oren Freeman, 18, of Carrollton R. D. 1 received suspended 90-day jail sentences Monday before County Judge James L. MacDonald for petty larceny in the theft of 5 gallons of gasoline from the William's Saw Mill on County Rd. 703 north of Bayard.

They were arrested by Deputy James Gause on routine patrol early Sunday morning.

They were committed to the County Jail in lieu of costs amounting to $11.90 each.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I prevent scum from forming over the paint in a partly-used can?

A. Pour a little turpentine over the paint, being careful to float it on the surface. When ready to paint again, simply stir the turpentine in as a thinner. To preserve paint indefinitely, seal the paint in your can with some melted paraffin, as you would a jar of jelly.

Q. How can I avoid buying shoes that are too tight?

A. It is better to buy shoes in the afternoon, as by that time the feet will have spread from being on them, and the shoes will always be comfortable.

Q. How can I keep fine laces from tearing when washing them?

A. Wash them in a bottle of soapsuds. If they are to be starched, use a solution of sugar and water. To whiten the laces, wash them in sour milk.

1,124 Revolt Fatalities

PARIS (AP) — Police Prefect Maurice Papon announced today that 1,124 persons have been killed and 1,354 wounded in Paris and its suburbs as a result of the Algerian rebellion since the revolt started nearly six years ago.

Red Sox Wait On Jensen's Decision About Comeback

Boston, opening its last two-game home stand against Baltimore today, may get its answer Wednesday. Jensen has called a press conference for noon at Fenway Park.

The California slugger who decided to quit baseball a year ago isn't hinting whether he will change his mind and come out of retirement or not. But his presence is stirring up plenty of controversy.

Manager Mike Higgins, who put in a long distance call to Jensen the day after he was reinstated as manager this summer, has a dinner engagement with Jensen which may settle a lot of things.

6 Back At Work After Exposure To Radiation

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Six radar technicians hospitalized after exposure to radiation from a high-energy tube are working again, according to a medical report.

The report added, however, that all have been assigned to jobs where there is no chance of their being exposed to further radiation.

Three of the six civilian technicians received critical doses of radiation from an accidentally exposed tube at Lockport Air Force Base last March.

The six were hospitalized from 16 days to 11 weeks.

A report by Dr. Joe W. Howland of the University of Rochester Medical School, released Monday, said the continuing effects of the radiation noted so far were extreme sensitivity to heat and cold and a recurring drowsiness.

Dr. Howland said one technician collapsed from heart prostration recently upon arriving in Phoenix, Ariz.

Three received from 300 to 2,000 roentgens of partial body radiation, the report said. A dose of 3,000 roentgens of this radiation is considered lethal.

Russell Cave, a cavern in Tennessee, was inhabited by stone age people 9,000 years ago.

Leaves Given 4 Men In Navy

Sonarman Seaman Gary Tom Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Brown of Calcutta, is spending 22 days at home after completing 24 weeks of schooling in Basic Sonar at Key West, Fla. He was present when hurricane Donna hit and participated in flight and various emergency operations at the base.

Brown, a 1959 graduate of Beaver Local High School, enlisted for 4 years in October 1959. He will report to the Naval Air Station at Quonset Point, R. I., for duty with a helicopter squadron.

Seaman Apprentice John S. Prodonovich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Prodonovich, 830 Mason St., is spending 14 days recruit leave after completing training at San Diego, Calif. He will return Thursday to the Naval School Command at San Diego for 14 weeks schooling in basic electricity. He enlisted June 23, along with four other 1960 graduates of East Liverpool High School.

Fireman Apprentice George W. Wiersbicki, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wiersbicki of Newell, and Fireman Apprentice Layman D. Eddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Eddy of New Cumberland R. D. 2, both are spending 14 days at home after completing boot camp at Great Lakes, Ill. Both will report to Newport R. I., Saturday.

Wiersbicki will serve aboard the guided missile destroyer Wilson and Eddy will report aboard the destroyer tender Yosemite. Both 1960 graduates of Wells High School, they enlisted in July.

Seaman Apprentice Phillip A. Pelley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Pelley, 420 Grant St., Newell, is spending 15 days at home before going overseas to Rota, Spain, for a tour of shore duty. His leave will expire Oct. 7. He has been at Great Lakes with the Administration Command since completing recruit training in May. He enlisted in February.

Overweight Causes Need Analysis

If you long to be slim but cannot for the life of you stay with a protective diet plan, let's track down some clues. In a detective story the culprit is invariably the least likely suspect. This can be the case with diet failures. The real reasons often go undetected.

By Ida Jean Kain

One small, but significant clue can serve to open your eyes and get you on the right track. Enlightenment can be surprisingly energizing.

One young woman, disgusted with herself, wrote this line: "I think to myself, 'Oh, you big, fat pig, I'll just eat and make you fatter!'"

What is back of such sadistic reasoning? By calling herself names, she avoids taking action. This is a form of justification... it lets her out of trying.

AN ANALOGY MIGHT be the undisciplined youngster who says, "I'm too dumb to get good grades." Such a remark serves as an excuse not to dig in on lessons ... not to try.

Compulsive eating can stem from bitterness or resentment. One homemaker felt so resentful toward her husband for keeping at her to reduce that she overate just to spite him. When she became aware of what she was doing to herself, her whole attitude changed. By diteing she was doing something she wanted to do.

Overweight teen-agers often stuff deliberately ... without really knowing why. They feel defiant toward their parents. On the dieting score they may think, "I would diet if you would only let me alone."

If you have a defiant attitude, examine what is back of it. Could it be you are looking for an excuse not to curb your overeating? You may regard this as a way of expressing your independence. But is that really it? Dieting isn't easy ... it calls for self-control.

Do not fall into the trap of thinking you are doing someone else a favor by getting down to shapely weight ... or that not reducing spites someone else. You are the one who suffers the bulging consequences ... or reaps the rewards.

WAKE UP TO the fact that what you really want is to banish the bulk and the bulges ... despite your procrastniations and your reluctance to make a spirited start.

The first step is to walk away from the dinner table tonight after you have eaten only about half as much as usual. You can enjoy a good meal ... but no seconds. Skip the rich dessert.

Later in the evening, eat a big, juicy apple. Are you game to try this plan for three weeks? You'll be so glad you did!

Send a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope for "Teen-Age Slimming Challenge." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Only One Death In 8 Months On Freeway

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Only one traffic death occurred in eight months of driving on Ohio's North-South Freeway, reports the Highway Patrol. There were 73 accidents of all types from Jan. 1 to Aug. 31, according to Col. Scott B. Radcliffe, patrol superintendent. Besides the fatal accident, 18 involved personal injury and 54 property damage.

Now open to traffic is a 12-mile section south of Columbus; 105 miles between Columbus and Ohio 18 near Medina, and 47 miles northeast of Painesville. Radcliffe said the patrol issued a total of 1,829 warnings during the period and another 679 drivers were cited for moving violations.

Record Found, So Lisbon Church To Change Name

LISBON — The Trinity Episcopal Church will be known in the future as Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, its original name, the vestry decided at its fall meeting Sunday afternoon after an old record disclosed the name under which the church was founded.

A review of old documents showed the order for laying the foundation stone of Holy Trinity Church of New Lisbon, dated Sept. 7, 1886. Acting on this evidence, the vestry decided the original name should be used in the future.

The Rev. T.G.S. Whitney, priest in charge, presided at the session. Plans were made for fall and winter programs.

Following the meeting, dinner was served by the women of the church in the undercroft, honoring Walter E. Taylor Jr. who served as layreader during the vacation of Rev. Whitney.

Youth Hunted After Grocer's Fatally Beaten

CINCINNATI (AP) — Police hunted a teen-age youth today seen loitering around the store where a one-legged grocer was beaten to death by a bandit.

William E. Patton, 63, died at St. Mary Hospital Monday night three hours after he was found unconscious, beaten and bleeding, in his grocery. Investigators said the cash register had been looted.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Parents Should Set Good Example

When our eldest son was about 13, our family, while on a long motor trip, stopped in a wooded place to eat our lunch. During the meal I peeled a banana and threw the peelings beyond me into the brush, whereupon I was rebuked by this son, a Boy Scout. I recovered the peelings, humbly apologized, and was deeply impressed. Sometimes the family on a trip will pause at some out-of-the-way place to explore. It may afford interesting experiences. However, unless standards are high, some of the group may be tempted into practice of bad citizenship.

Dr. Garry Meyers

THOSE LIVING on the edge of a town or city may have rich opportunities to hike and explore the woods and fields and streams.

Suppose you and the children climb over frail fences, breaking them down. Suppose you leave gates open. Suppose you trample down crops or help yourselves to fruits on the way.

And, if an owner of property on which you and your children are trespassing should angrily order you to leave his property, would your children hear you apologize to him? Better still, would they hear you ask permission of the owner of any private property to walk across it?

SOMETIMES, instead of exemplifying and teaching his children good citizenshp, a parent will speak of the owner with contempt as a "crabby, mean" person. How would this parent feel in the place of that owner?

Suppose you and your hiking family came upon an abandoned house or cabin. The children would be eager to enter and explore it. And what if they knocked out a few windows with stones just for fun, or did some other damage?

As editor of a children's magazine, I must receive and read, in the course of a year, 50 or more stories about children exploring an abandoned house which they entered without permission of the owner. The authors seem to suppose there is no moral issue involved.

Occasionally in this column I have entreated parents not to allow their children, without permission of the owner or builder, to enter or play about a house under construction. Here I also beg of parents to train their children not to enter or play around an empty or abandoned building.

THOSE LIVING on the edge of a town or city may have rich opportunities to hike and explore the woods and fields and streams.

Suppose you are with your children on such a hike. Do you set an example of good citzenship and guide your children accordingly?

Suppose you and the children climb over frail fences, breaking them down. Suppose you leave gates open. Suppose you trample down crops or help yourselves to fruits on the way.

And, if an owner of property on which you and your children are trespassing should angrily order you to leave his property, would your children hear you apologize to him? Better still, would they hear you ask permission of the owner of any private property to walk across it?

SOMETIMES, instead of exemplifying and teaching his children good citizenship, a parent will speak of the owner with contempt as a "crabby, mean" person. How would this parent feel in the place of that owner?

Suppose you and your hiking family came upon an abandoned house or cabin. The children would be eager to enter and explore it. And what if they knocked out a few windows with stones just for fun, or did some other damage?

As editor of a children's magazine, I must receive and read, in the course of a year, 50 or more stories about children exploring an abandoned house which they entered without permission of the owner. The authors seem to suppose there is no moral issue involved.

Occasionally in this column I have entreated parents not to allow their children, without permission of the owner or builder, to enter or play about a house under construction. Here I also beg of parents to train their children not to enter or play around an empty or abandoned building.
